alexmortonmindset  People under value and underestimate the true power of residual income. If you're not acquiring residual income in the present moment, take 5-10 minutes, do some research, and figure out how to start an additional residual income stream asap. This new economy and world will require all of us to think, feel, & act differently in order to thrive.. and for some merely to survive and take care of our families. The writing is on the wall.. nobody's job is safe, 401K and social security is a joke, & it's evident we must all take full responsibility for our lives. Residual income is one of the most beautiful concepts on the planet. Do something ONCE and get paid over and over and over and over again. I'm at Coachella with my wife

Residual income is one of the most beautiful concepts on the planet. Do something ONCE and get paid over and over and over and over again. I'm at Coachella with my wife and close friends and the check that hit on Friday.. some of that was from work I did in 2016 and tbh a small amount was from work I did in 2012.. work hard yes, but also work smart. Trading time for money will ensure you never move your financial family tree forward. Blessings ❤️
