alexmortonmindset Everyday we wake up and choose to fight the spiritual war between good and evil and right and wrong. It seems that evil may be winning the battle with the way the is right now however evil will not prevail and good will win the war. GOD is undefeated. Keep the faith and do your part in being an example of the good that's still left on this planet.

Honesty, integrity, truthfulness, compassion, & empathy are the cornerstones of living a life of love and light. Don't buy into the 4 you see on tel-e-vision or read on social media. Stick to your values and morals & try and help people when opportunities present themselves. Personally, I'll continue spreading
