God really has a sense of humor, and it shows when yah look at our journey. I told you when we were 16 years old that I'd marry you before we were thirty, and now we celebrate more than 10 years together. I told you when I was working dead end jobs that I'd take you around the world, now we've visited nearly 40 countries and even own some real estate around the world together. I told you I didn't want children because I wasn't sure how to love, and now our baby is turning a year old in just a few months.

You're a special breed Shorty, and today we celebrate your life. Happiest of birthdays and cheers to more life by your side, in a few days we'll light up Mexico in your name. Thank you for
