

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

KYRA DRUGAS, individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated,

Plaintiff,

v.

PRIME HYDRATION LLC,

Defendant,

Civil Action No.: 1:23-cv-08552

CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT

JURY TRIAL DEMANDED

Plaintiff, Kyra Drugas, brings this Class Action Complaint against Defendant Prime Hydration LLC, individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated, and complains and alleges upon personal knowledge as to herself and her own acts and experiences and, as to all other matters, upon information and belief, including investigation conducted by her attorneys:

NATURE OF THE ACTION

1. Defendant formulates, manufactures, advertises, and sells the popular “PRIME Energy” drinks, which include Prime Energy Blue Raspberry, Prime Energy Ice Pop, Prime Energy Lemon Lime, Prime Energy Orange Mango, Prime Energy Strawberry Watermelon, and Prime Energy Tropical Punch (“Products”) throughout the United States, including in New York. Defendant markets its Products in a systematically misleading manner, by misrepresenting that its Products have specific amounts of caffeine that it does not in fact contain (“Misrepresentations”).

2. Plaintiff and each of the Class members accordingly suffered an injury in fact caused by the false, fraudulent, unfair, deceptive, and misleading practices set forth herein, and seek compensatory damages, statutory damages, and injunctive relief.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

3. This Court has original jurisdiction over this controversy pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d), Plaintiff's claims and the claims of the other members of the Class exceed $5,000,000 exclusive of interest and costs, and there are numerous Class members who are citizens of states other than Defendant's states of citizenship.

4. Venue is proper in this District pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b)(2) and (c) because a substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to Plaintiff's claims occurred in this District and because Defendant transacts business and/or has agents within this District.

PARTIES

5. Plaintiff is a citizen of New York who resides in New York, New York. In March of 2023, Plaintiff purchased the Strawberry Watermelon and Lemon Lime Products from a CVS located in New York. Plaintiff paid about $4 for each of the Products. Prior to purchase, Plaintiff carefully read the Products' labeling and advertising, including the representation that it contained "200mg of caffeine." Plaintiff understood this to mean that the Products contained 200 milligrams of caffeine, and relied on it in that she would not have purchased the Products had she known that this representation was false and misleading.

6. Defendant is a limited liability company organized under the laws of Delaware, with its principal place of business located at 2858 Frankfort Ave., Louisville, Kentucky 40206.

7. Upon information and belief, none of Defendant's members are citizens of the state of New York.

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

8. In 2022, Logan Paul and KSI, two YouTube personalities with a combined following of over 140 million subscribers, announced their collaboration on a new beverage company, Prime Hydration LLC.¹ Their involvement in the project generated significant social media hype, driving demand for the Products, particularly among school-age children and teenage boys.²

9. Defendant reportedly generated $250 million in retail sales worldwide in its first year, with $45 million in January 2023 alone.³

10. Defendant sells Hydration Drinks that do not contain caffeine, as well as Energy Drinks (the Products) that, according to Defendant, contain 200 milligrams of caffeine.⁴ Both come in brightly colored packaging. For example, the “Ice Pop” flavored Hydration Drink and Energy Drink look nearly identical:

11. The Products have generated controversy due to its marketing campaign, which has been criticized for targeting children and adolescents, in conjunction with its high concentration of caffeine. Several countries, jurisdictions, and primary and secondary schools have banned or restricted the Products due to its caffeine content exceeding legal limits, or otherwise being deemed unsafe for children to consume.⁶

12. In contrast to a 12-ounce can of Red Bull energy drink, which contains 114 milligrams of caffeine, or a cup of coffee, which contains around 100 milligrams of caffeine, the Products are labeled and advertised to contain 200 milligrams of caffeine per 12-ounce can.⁷ This is the equivalent to about half a dozen Coke cans or nearly two Red Bulls.⁸

13. There is no proven safe dose of caffeine for children.⁹ Side effects for kids consuming caffeine could include rapid or irregular heartbeats, headaches, seizures, shaking, stomach upset and adverse emotional effects on mental health.¹⁰

14. Accordingly, pediatricians and parents are calling for the U.S. to ban the sale of high-caffeine energy drinks like the Products to minors.¹¹

15. In a letter to the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, U.S. Senate Majority Leader Chuck Schumer called for the investigation of the Products, outlining four major areas he deemed worthy of investigating: the drink's claims to boost athletic performance and focus, its social-media heavy advertising, its labels and warnings and its "eye-popping caffeine content."¹²

16. It is axiomatic that the amount of reported caffeine contained within Defendant's Products are material to any consumer seeking to purchase an energy drink, particularly where there is the possibility of an adverse reaction to caffeine, especially to children.

17. Defendant labels and advertises its Products to contain 200 milligrams of caffeine on its website,¹³ third-party retailer websites, like Amazon.com,¹⁴ and on the side and back of each Products can. Such representations constitute an express warranty regarding the Products' caffeine content.

18. Defendant's Products label plainly states that it contains "200mg of caffeine" on the side and back of the packaging:

¹³ <https://drinkprime.com/products/tropical-punch-energy> (last visited Aug. 6, 2023).

¹⁴ https://www.amazon.com/Tropical-Naturally-Flavored-Caffeine-Electrolytes/dp/B0BRDGBDX8/ref=sr_1_5?crd=1YB6FVL6D903S&keywords=prime+energy+tropical+punch&qid=1694017142&sprefix=prime+energy+tropical+punch%2Caps%2C121&sr=8-5 (last visited Aug. 6, 2023).

19. However, based upon testing commissioned by Plaintiff’s attorneys, the Products actually contain between 215-225 milligrams of caffeine rather than the advertised 200 milligrams.

20. Pursuant to 21 U.S.C. § 321(f), Defendant’s Products constitute a “food” regulated by the FDCA, 21 U.S.C. § 301, et seq., and other FDCA regulations.

21. Defendant's false, deceptive, and misleading label statements violate 21 U.S.C. § 343(a)(1) and the so-called "little FDCA" statutes adopted by many states¹⁵, which deem food misbranded when "its labeling is false or misleading in any particular."

22. Defendant's false, deceptive, and misleading label statements are unlawful under state Unfair and Deceptive Acts and Practices Statutes and/or Consumer Protection Acts, which prohibit unfair, deceptive, or unconscionable acts in the conduct of trade or commerce.

23. New York has expressly adopted the federal food labeling requirements as its own. Thus, a violation of federal food labeling laws is an independent violation of New York law and actionable as such.

24. The introduction of misbranded food into interstate commerce is prohibited under the FDCA and all state parallel statutes cited in this Class Action Complaint.

25. Defendant intended for Plaintiff and the Class members to be misled.

26. Defendant's misleading and deceptive practices proximately caused harm to the Plaintiff and the Class.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

27. Plaintiff brings this action individually and as representatives of all those similarly situated pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23 on behalf of the below-defined Classes:

National Class: All persons in the United States that purchased the Products within the applicable limitations period.

Consumer Fraud Multi-State Class: All persons in the states of California, Florida, Illinois, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, and Washington that purchased the Products within the applicable limitations period.¹⁶

¹⁵ See, e.g., New York Consolidated Laws, Agriculture and Markets Law - AGM § 201.

¹⁶ The states in the Consumer Fraud Multi-State Class are limited to those states with similar consumer fraud laws under the facts of this case: California (Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 17200, et seq.); Florida (Fla. Stat. § 501.201, et seq.); Illinois (815 Ill. Comp. Stat. 505/1, et seq.);

New York Subclass: All persons in the state of New York that purchased the Products within the applicable limitations period.

Excluded from the Classes are Defendant and its affiliates, parents, subsidiaries, employees, officers, agents, and directors. Also excluded are any judicial officers presiding over this matter and the members of their immediate families and judicial staff.

28. Certification of Plaintiff's claims for class-wide treatment is appropriate because Plaintiff can prove the elements of her claims on a class-wide basis using the same evidence as would be used to prove those elements in individual actions alleging the same claims.

29. Numerosity – Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(a)(1). The members of the Classes are so numerous that their individual joinder herein is impracticable. On information and belief, Class members number in the thousands to millions. The precise number of Class members and their addresses are presently unknown to Plaintiff, but may be ascertained from Defendant's books and records. Class members may be notified of the pendency of this action by mail, email, Internet postings, and/or publication.

30. Commonality and Predominance – Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(a)(2) and 23(b)(3). Common questions of law and fact exist as to all Class members and predominate over questions affecting only individual Class members. Such common questions of law or fact include:

- a. The true caffeine content in the Products;

Massachusetts (Mass. Gen. Laws Ch. 93A, et seq.); Michigan (Mich. Comp. Laws § 445.901, et seq.); Minnesota (Minn. Stat. § 325F.67, et seq.); Missouri (Mo. Rev. Stat. §407.010, et seq.); New Jersey (N.J. Stat. § 56:8-1, et seq.); New York (N.Y. Gen. Bus. Law §§ 349, 350 et seq.); and Washington (Wash. Rev. Code § 19.86.010, et seq.).

- b. Whether the marketing, advertising, packaging, labeling, and other promotional materials for the Products are deceptive;
- c. Whether Defendant's actions violate the state consumer fraud statutes invoked below;
- d. Whether Defendant breached an express warranty to Plaintiff and Class members; and
- e. Whether Defendant was unjustly enriched at the expense of the Plaintiff and Class members.

31. Defendant engaged in a common course of conduct giving rise to the legal rights sought to be enforced by Plaintiff, on behalf of herself and the other Class members. Similar or identical statutory and common law violations, business practices, and injuries are involved. Individual questions, if any, pale by comparison, in both quality and quantity, to the numerous common questions that dominate this action.

32. Typicality – Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(a)(3). Plaintiff's claims are typical of the claims of the other members of the Classes because, among other things, all Class members were comparably injured through Defendant's uniform misconduct described above. Further, there are no defenses available to Defendant that are unique to Plaintiff.

33. Adequacy of Representation – Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(a)(4). Plaintiff is an adequate Class representative because her interests do not conflict with the interests of the other Class members she seeks to represent, she has retained counsel competent and experienced in complex class action litigation, and they will prosecute this action vigorously. The Classes' interests will be fairly and adequately protected by Plaintiff and her counsel.

34. Insufficiency of Separate Actions – Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(b)(1).

Absent a representative class action, members of the Classes would continue to suffer the harm described herein, for which they would have no remedy. Even if separate actions could be brought by individual consumers, the resulting multiplicity of lawsuits would cause undue hardship and expense for both the Court and the litigants, as well as create a risk of inconsistent rulings and adjudications that might be dispositive of the interests of similarly situated purchasers, substantially impeding their ability to protect their interests, while establishing incompatible standards of conduct for Defendant. The proposed Classes thus satisfy the requirements of Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(1).

35. Declaratory and Injunctive Relief – Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(b)(2).

Defendant has acted or refused to act on grounds generally applicable to Plaintiff and the other members of the Classes, thereby making appropriate final injunctive relief and declaratory relief, as described below, with respect to the members of the Classes as a whole.

36. Superiority – Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(b)(3). A class action is superior to any other available means for the fair and efficient adjudication of this controversy, and no unusual difficulties are likely to be encountered in the management of this class action. The damages or other financial detriment suffered by Plaintiff and the other members of the Classes are relatively small compared to the burden and expense that would be required to individually litigate their claims against Defendant, so it would be impracticable for Class members to individually seek redress for Defendant's wrongful conduct. Even if Class members could afford individual litigation, the court system could not. Individualized litigation creates a potential for inconsistent or contradictory judgments, and increases the delay and expense to all parties and the court system. By contrast, the class action device presents far fewer management difficulties, and provides the benefits of single adjudication, economy of scale, and comprehensive supervision by a single court.

COUNT I
Violation Of State Consumer Fraud Acts
(On Behalf Of Consumer Fraud Multi-State Class)

37. Plaintiff incorporates paragraphs 1-36 as if fully set forth herein.

38. Plaintiff brings this claim individually and on behalf of the members of the Consumer Fraud Multi-State Class against Defendant.

39. The Consumer Fraud Acts of the states in the Consumer Fraud Multi-State Class¹⁷ prohibit the use of unfair or deceptive business practices in the conduct of trade or commerce.

40. Defendant intended that Plaintiff and each of the other members of the Consumer Fraud Multi-State Class would rely upon their deceptive conduct, and a reasonable person would in fact be misled by this deceptive conduct.

41. As a result of the Defendant's use or employment of unfair or deceptive acts or business practices, Plaintiff and each of the other members of the Consumer Fraud Multi-State Class have sustained damages in an amount to be proven at trial.

42. In addition, Defendant's conduct showed malice, motive, and the reckless disregard of the truth such that an award of punitive damages is appropriate.

¹⁷ California (Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 17200, et seq.); Florida (Fla. Stat. § 501.201, et seq.); Illinois (815 Ill. Comp. Stat. 505/1, et seq.); Massachusetts (Mass. Gen. Laws Ch. 93A, et seq.); Michigan (Mich. Comp. Laws § 445.901, et seq.); Minnesota (Minn. Stat. § 325F.67, et seq.); Missouri (Mo. Rev. Stat. § 407.010, et seq.); New Jersey (N.J. 43. Plaintiff incorporates paragraphs 1-36 as if fully set forth herein.

44. Plaintiff brings this claim individually and on behalf of the members of the New York Subclass against Defendant.

45. By the acts and conduct alleged herein, Defendant committed unfair or deceptive acts and practices by making the Misrepresentations.

46. The foregoing deceptive acts and practices were directed at consumers.

47. The foregoing deceptive acts and practices are misleading in a material way because they fundamentally misrepresent the characteristics, ingredients, and benefits of the Products to induce consumers to purchase same.

48. Plaintiff and members of the New York Subclass were injured because: (a) they would not have purchased the Products if they had known that the Products did not contain the represented caffeine content; (b) they paid a price premium for the Products based on Defendant's Misrepresentations; and (c) the Products do not have the characteristics, uses, or benefits as promised, namely the represented caffeine content. Namely, the Products contain levels of caffeine in excess of that represented on the Products labels and advertising. As a result, Plaintiff and members of the New York Subclass have been damaged in the full amount of the purchase price of the Products.

49. On behalf of herself and other members of the New York Subclass, Plaintiff seeks to enjoin the unlawful acts and practices described herein, to recover her actual damages or fifty dollars, whichever is greater, three times actual damages, and reasonable attorneys' fees.

COUNT III

False Advertising, New York GBL § 350

(In The Alternative To Count I And On Behalf Of The New York Subclass)

50. Plaintiff incorporates paragraphs 1-36 as if fully set forth herein.

51. Plaintiff brings this claim individually and on behalf of the members of the New York Subclass against Defendant.

52. Based on the foregoing, Defendant has engaged in consumer-oriented conduct that is deceptive or misleading in a material way which constitutes false advertising in violation of Section 350 of the New York GBL.

53. Defendant's false, misleading, and deceptive statements and representations of fact, including but not limited to, the Misrepresentations, were and are directed to consumers.

54. Defendant's false, misleading, and deceptive statements and representations of fact, including but not limited to the Misrepresentations, were and are likely to mislead a reasonable consumer acting reasonably under the circumstances.

55. Defendant's false, misleading, and deceptive statements and representations of fact, including but not limited to the Misrepresentations, have resulted in consumer injury or harm to the public interest.

56. Plaintiff and members of the New York Subclass have been injured because: (a) they would not have purchased the Products if they had known that the Products did not contain the represented caffeine content; (b) they paid a price premium for the Products based on Defendant's Misrepresentations; and (c) the Products do not have the characteristics, uses, or benefits as promised, namely the represented caffeine content. Namely, the Products contain levels of caffeine in excess of that represented on the Products labels and advertising. As a result, Plaintiff and members of the New York Subclass have been damaged either in the full amount of the purchase price of the Products or in the difference in value between the Products as warranted and the Products as actually sold.

57. As a result of Defendant's false, misleading, and deceptive statements and representations of fact, including but not limited to the Misrepresentations, Plaintiff has suffered and will continue to suffer economic injury.

58. Plaintiff and members of the New York Subclass suffered an ascertainable loss caused by Defendant's Misrepresentations because they paid more for the Products than they would have had they known the truth about the Products.

59. On behalf of herself and other members of the New York Subclass, Plaintiff seeks to enjoin the unlawful acts and practices described herein, to recover her actual damages or five hundred dollars, whichever is greater, three times actual damages, and reasonable attorneys' fees.

COUNT IV
Breach Of Express Warranty
(On Behalf Of The National Class)

60. Plaintiff incorporates paragraphs 1-36 as if fully set forth herein.

61. Plaintiff brings this claim individually and on behalf of the members of the National Class against Defendant.

62. Plaintiff, and each member of the National Class, formed a contract with Defendant at the time Plaintiff and the other National Class members purchased the Products. The terms of the contract included the promises and affirmations of fact made by Defendant on the Products' packaging and throughout its marketing and advertising, including the total caffeine content of the Products. This labeling, marketing and advertising constitute express warranties and became part of the basis of the bargain, and are part of the standardized contract between Plaintiff and the members of the National Class and Defendant.

63. Defendant purports through their advertising, labeling, marketing, and packaging to create an express warranty that the Products contained a specific caffeine content.

64. Plaintiff and the National Class performed all conditions precedent to Defendant's liability under this contract when they purchased the Products.

65. Defendant breached express warranties about the Products and its qualities because Defendant's statements about the Products were false and the Products do not conform to Defendant's affirmations and promises described above.

66. Plaintiff and each member of the National Class would not have purchased the Products had they known the true nature of the Products' ingredients and what the Products did and did not contain—specifically, the actual caffeine content of the Products.

67. As a result of Defendant's breach of express warranty, Plaintiff and each member of the National Class have been damaged in the amount of the purchase price of the Products and any consequential damages resulting from the purchases.

68. On September 28, 2023, Plaintiff's counsel sent Defendant a pre-suit notice letter, via certified mail return receipt requested, that complied in all respects with U.C.C. §§ 2-313, 2-607. Plaintiff's counsel sent Defendant a letter advising that it breached an express warranty and demanded that it cease and desist from such breaches and make full restitution by refunding the monies received therefrom. A true and correct copy of Plaintiff's counsel's letter is attached hereto as Exhibit A.

COUNT V
Unjust Enrichment
(In The Alternative To Count IV And On Behalf Of The National Class)

69. Plaintiff incorporates paragraphs 1-36 as if fully set forth herein.

70. Plaintiff brings this claim individually and on behalf of the members of the National Class, in the alternative to Count IV for breach of express warranty.

71. Plaintiff and the other members of the National Class conferred benefits on Defendant by purchasing the Products.

72. Defendant has been unjustly enriched in retaining the revenues derived from Plaintiff and the other members of the National Class's purchases of the Products. Retention of those monies under these circumstances is unjust and inequitable because Defendant's labeling of the Products was misleading to consumers, which caused injuries to Plaintiff and the other members of the National Class because they would have not purchased the Products if the true facts would have been known.

73. Because Defendant's retention of the non-gratuitous benefits conferred on it by Plaintiff and the other members of the National Class is unjust and inequitable, Defendant must pay restitution to Plaintiff and the other members of the National Class for their unjust enrichment, as ordered by the Court.

COUNT VI
Violation Of The Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act, 15 U.S.C. §§ 2301, et seq.
(On Behalf Of The National Class)

74. Plaintiff incorporates paragraphs 1-36 as if fully set forth herein.

75. Plaintiff brings this claim individually and on behalf of the members of the National Class against Defendant.

76. The Products is a consumer Products as defined in 15 U.S.C. § 2301(1).

77. Plaintiff and Class members are consumers as defined in 15 U.S.C. § 2301(3).

78. Defendant is a supplier and warrantor as defined in 15 U.S.C. § 2301(4) and (5).

79. In connection with the sale of the Products, Defendant issued written warranties as defined in 15 U.S.C. § 2301(6), which warranted that the Products did, in fact, contain “200mg of caffeine.”

80. In fact, the Products do not contain 200 milligrams of caffeine—they contain in caffeine in excess of that amount.

81. By reason of Defendant’s breach of warranty, Defendant violated the statutory rights due to Plaintiff and Class members pursuant to the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act, 15 U.S.C. §§ 2301, et seq., thereby damaging Plaintiff and Class members.

82. Plaintiff and Class members have been injured because: (a) they would not have purchased the Products if they had known that the Products did not contain the represented caffeine content; (b) they paid a price premium for the Products based on Defendant’s Misrepresentations; and (c) the Products do not have the characteristics, uses, or benefits as promised, namely the represented caffeine content. Namely, Products contain levels of caffeine in excess of that represented on the Products’ labels and advertising. As a result, Plaintiff and Class members have been damaged either in the full amount of the purchase price of the Products.

COUNT VII

Fraud

(On Behalf Of The National Class and the New York Subclass)

83. Plaintiff incorporates paragraphs 1-36 as if fully set forth herein.

84. Plaintiff brings this claim individually and on behalf of the members of the proposed National Class and the New York Subclass against Defendant.

85. As discussed above, Defendant provided Plaintiff and Class members with false or misleading material information about the Products, including but not limited to the fact that the Products contain more caffeine than what is represented on the Products' packaging. These misrepresentations and omissions were made with knowledge of their falsehood.

86. The misrepresentations and omissions made by Defendant, upon which Plaintiff and Class members reasonably and justifiably relied, were intended to induce and actually induced Plaintiff and Class members to purchase the Products.

87. The fraudulent actions of Defendant caused damage to Plaintiff and Class members, who are entitled to damages and other legal and equitable relief as a result.

88. In addition, Defendant's conduct showed malice, motive, and the reckless disregard of the truth such that an award of punitive damages is appropriate.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff and the other Class members respectfully request that the Court:

- A. Certify the Classes pursuant to Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure;
- B. Award damages, including compensatory, exemplary, statutory, incidental, consequential, actual, and punitive damages to Plaintiff and the Classes in an amount to be determined at trial;
- C. Award Plaintiff and the Classes their expenses and costs of the suit, pre-judgment interest, post-judgment interest, and reasonable attorneys' fees;
- D. Grant restitution to Plaintiff and the Classes and require Defendant to disgorge their ill-gotten gains;
- E. Permanently enjoin Defendant from engaging in the unlawful conduct set forth herein; and
- F. Grant any and all such other relief as the Court deems appropriate.

Re: Notice of Violations of State Consumer Protection Statutes and Breach of Express Warranty

To Whom it May Concern:

This letter serves as a demand for corrective action on behalf of our client, Kyra Drugas, as well as all other persons similarly situated, arising from claims of breach of express warranty and violations of various consumer protection statutes based on Prime Hydration LLC's ("Prime") deceptive marketing and advertisement of its PRIME Energy drinks (the "Products").

These claims arise out of Prime's labeling of the Products as containing "200mg of caffeine." Our independent testing has revealed that the Products actually contain between 215-225 milligrams of caffeine, rather than the 200 milligrams advertised on the Products' labels. This false and deceptive labeling also renders the Products mislabeled under the Federal Food, Drug & Cosmetic Act. See 21 U.S.C. § 343(a)(1). Food that is deemed "misbranded" may not be manufactured, distributed or sold in the United States. See 21 U.S.C. § 331.

Ms. Drugas purchased the Products from authorized retailer CVS in the state of New York as recently as March 2023. She relied on Prime's labeling of the Products in making her purchase, which she understood to mean that the Products only contained 200 milligrams of caffeine.

Prime's misrepresentations regarding the Products are material to our client and other reasonable consumers who purchased the Products. Accordingly, our client intends to file a class action lawsuit against Prime, alleging various causes of action, including breach of express warranty, unjust enrichment, and violations of various consumer protection statutes. These consumer protection statutes include, but are not limited to (and at times will be asserted in the alternative to one another): California (Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 17200, et seq.); Florida (Fla. Stat. § 501.201, et seq.); Illinois (815 Ill. Comp. Stat. 505/1, et seq.); Massachusetts (Mass. Gen. Laws Ch. 93A, et seq.); Michigan (Mich. Comp. Laws § 445.901, et seq.); Minnesota (Minn. Stat. § 325F.67, et seq.); Missouri (Mo. Rev. Stat. § 407.010, et seq.); New Jersey (N.J. Stat. § 56:8-1, et seq.); New York (N.Y. Gen. Bus. Law §§ 349, 350, et seq.); and Washington (Wash. Rev. Code § 19.86.010, et seq.).

Affiliates/Locations | California | Georgia | Kentucky | Mississippi | New Jersey | New York | North Carolina | Puerto Rico | South Carolina | Tennessee | Washington | Netherlands | Portugal | United Kingdom
