

Vollara Spotlight Honors and Congratulates Abe and Karen Silos

Abe & Karen seek to improve the condition of those suffering, one unique soul at a time.

"It's better to give than to receive," is more than a kernel of wisdom, it's life's calling for Vollara Platinum Executive Abe Silos.

In April of 2020, Abe was seeking a solution to help schools, churches and businesses remain open during the pandemic. Against a backdrop of economic uncertainty and a country concerned with well-being, American patriot Abe's passion for reducing human suffering found a unique harmony with Vollara's mission to empower health and dreams.

"We started with Vollara mid-May of 2020," shares Abe. "Having great people like Gold Executive Lydia Callahan on the team, coupled with our 3+ decades of sales and management training experience, we quickly built a culture of success with our group. With God's grace, we generated over $1,000,000 in retail sales by year's end."

By July 2020 Abe and Karen had reached the rank of Gold, and then Platinum Executive. The following year, the Silos' were ranked among the Top Ten Distributors nationwide for 2021. With their focus on the family, Abe and Karen celebrated 43 years of marriage with a move to Edinburg, VA. They have a lovely home on 2 acres set near the banks of the Shenandoah River, next to the Washington Jefferson National Forest; just down the road from their daughter Krista and son-in-law Justin Day.

Proud grandparents, they will be welcoming their 3rd grandchild in April 2023!

"We appreciate the Vollara Opportunity so much," exclaims Abe. "Joe Urso, Bill Coyle, and Mike Jackson, along with all the other wonderful people who serve us at the Bristol, VA factory work so hard to support us."

The Silos credit their Savior and the Vollara opportunity for their ability to support the construction of women & children's care facilities, a variety of missions and charitable outreach organizations, and their own personal abundance.

"Our Acura MDX and 2 acres in the Shenandoah Valley across from Shenandoah River were made possible thanks to Vollara," proclaims Abe.

The goal of Vollara Spotlight is to share the tireless work of those who have chosen the leader's path, where personal effort, dedication, and a selfless, can-do spirit are the seeds for an abundant harvest. Way to go Silos! We're excited to watch your journey as you help others discover a better way.
