Okay, I know what you're thinking... how incredibly ostentatious this girl is! 🗨️

Who flaunts a check THAT big all over social media? 🗨️

I get it— 2 years ago I'd probably be doing the biggest eye roll and texting screenshot "omg did you see this?!" to my girlfriends too. 🗨️

But here's the deal. 🗨️

I've changed. I opened my mind and stepped outside my comfortable box and just tried the thing I said I'd never do. 🗨️

I did not WIN this check. I EARNED it. And it wasn't easy. There were MANY days I wanted to give up. Being in any kind of business for yourself is challenging. But network marketing? That is another level altogether. 🗨️

The skeptics. 🗨️

The haters. 🗨️

✘ Not easy. BUT OH SO WORTH IT. ...

This check is just one of the many bonuses I've achieved, presented to me on one of the 8 amazing trips (hello Bahamas!) I've earned. ...

And, as our incredible President @macmillanstuart says, that's not all... ...

Because I decided to partner with this company, I have learned and grown more in 2 years than I had in the last decade. ...

I've also rekindled old friendships. Forged new ones. Lost a few along the way... 🙏

I've strengthened long lost skills like public speaking, analytics, marketing, teamwork and leadership. 🙏

I've also failed. Failed to meet goals. Failed to help some team members meet theirs. Failed to keep everyone happy. That part is icky. 🙏

But those of us who keep going really relish these moments; walking the stage, hugging the CEO, President and Chairman of this multimillion dollar company as if they're family, being cheered on by my own family in the audience— in the Bahamas. 🙏

This was special for me. It represents teamwork (you guys inspire!), the support of all my customers, the success of our innovative products, and demonstrates to my kids that mom can accomplish big things while still being home for them. 🙏

And this is why I love our business so much. ❤️
