11 JANICE ANGEL, and on behalf of herself and 12 all others similarly situated,

13 Plaintiff,

14 v.

15 MY DAILY CHOICE, INC.
16 Defendant.

Case No.

CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT

DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

17 Plaintiff Janice Angel (“Plaintiff”), on behalf of herself and all others similarly situated 18 (“Class Members”), files this Class Action Complaint (“Complaint”) against My Daily Choice, Inc.
19 (“MDC” or “Defendant”), and complains and alleges upon personal knowledge as to herself and 20 information and belief as to all other matters.

21 INTRODUCTION

22 1. Plaintiff brings this class action against MDC for its failure to safeguard and secure
23 the personally identifiable information (“PII”) of past and current customers of Defendant, including 24 Plaintiff. The individuals affected are past and current customers of MDC, whose PII was stored by 25 Defendant in a third-party hosted environment for its company data when that PII was accessed by 26 an unauthorized third party on or about February 15, 2024, exposing their private and sensitive 27 information to cybercriminals (the “Data Breach”).
28

1           2.       The data reportedly exposed in the Data Breach includes some of the most sensitive
2 types of data that cybercriminals seek in order to commit fraud and identity theft. According to 3 MDC, information disclosed in the breach includes, but is not limited to, their names, financial 4 information, and Social Security Numbers.<sup>1</sup> This Data Breach has impacted more than 89,000
5 individuals whose PII was exposed to cybercriminals due to Defendant’s negligence.

6           3.       MDC is a corporation headquartered in Las Vegas, Nevada. Directly and through 7 ‘affiliates’ in a multilevel marketing structure, MDC markets and sells a wide variety of personal
8 use products including but not limited hygiene products, weight management supplements, skin care
9 products, clothing, and food and beverages.

10          4.       On or about February 15, 2024, MDC determined that a malicious actor had gained 11 access to its third-party hosted system, where MDC stores company data. MDC represented that this 12 hacker both accessed and copied the PII of Plaintiff and Class Members in this Data Breach, and 13 also attempted to delete at least some of the stored information.

14          5.       Armed with the PII accessed in the Data Breach, data thieves can commit a variety
15 of crimes including opening new financial information in Class Members’ names, taking out loans
16 in Class Members’ names, using Class Members’ names to obtain medical services, and using Class 17 Members’ personal information to target other phishing and hacking intrusions tailored to the 18 individual.

19          6.       As a result of the Data Breach, Plaintiff and Class Members have been exposed to a 20 heightened and imminent risk of financial fraud and identity theft. Plaintiff and Class Members 21 must now and in the future closely monitor their personal accounts to guard against identity theft.

22          7.       MDC owed a non-delegable duty to Plaintiff and Class Members to implement and 23 maintain reasonable and adequate security measures to secure, protect, and safeguard their PII

1 against unauthorized access and disclosure.<sup>2</sup> MDC breached that duty by, among other things,
2 failing to implement and maintain reasonable security procedures and practices to protect its 3 customers' PII from unauthorized access and disclosure, and/or failing to ensure its third-party
4 vendors hosting this sensitive information follow such reasonable and adequate security measures.

5 8. As a result of MDC's inadequate security and breach of its duties and obligations, the 6 Data Breach occurred, and Plaintiff's and Class Members' PII was accessed and disclosed. This 7 action seeks to remedy these failings and their consequences. Plaintiff brings this action on behalf
8 of herself and all persons whose PII was exposed as a result of the Data Breach, which MDC learned
9 of on or about February 15, 2024, as described in the notice letters sent to state attorneys general
10 and Class Members on or about June 5, 2024.

11 9. Plaintiff seeks remedies including, but not limited to, compensatory damages, treble 12 damages, punitive damages, reimbursement of out-of-pocket costs, and injunctive relief, including 13 improvements to Defendant's data security system, future annual audits, and adequate credit
14 monitoring services funded by Defendant.

15 10. Plaintiff, on behalf of herself and all other Class Members, asserts claims for 16 negligence, negligence per se, breach of fiduciary duty, breach of implied contract, and unjust
17 enrichment, and seeks declaratory relief, injunctive relief, monetary damages, statutory damages, 18 punitive damages, equitable relief, and all other relief authorized by law.

19 PARTIES

20 11. Plaintiff Janice Angel is an Iowa resident. On or about June 13, 2024, Plaintiff
21 received a letter from MDC notifying her that her PII was among the information accessed by 22 cybercriminals in the Data Breach.

23 12. Plaintiff is a customer of MDC. As a condition of receiving MDC's products and 24 services, Plaintiff was required to, and did, provide her PII to MDC.
25

27 <sup>2</sup> Indeed, MDC itself represented directly to Plaintiff and Class Members that "[d]ata privacy 28 and security are among MDC's highest priorities, and there are measures in place to protect the information in our care." Id., Exhibit A.

1           13. Plaintiff has suffered injuries directly and proximately caused by the Data Breach.
2 These include, but are not limited to, loss of time and money expended to mitigate the imminent and
3 significant risk of identity theft, loss of privacy, and anxiety and other emotional distress. Plaintiff
4 was subject to a drop of approximately 200 points on her credit score following the Data Breach
5 which she reasonably believes is related to this exposure of her PII. Plaintiff has also had to replace 6 her bank debit card and placed credit freezes on her financial accounts.

7           14. Had Plaintiff known that MDC would not adequately protect her and Class Members'
8 PII, she would not have received products or services from MDC and would not have provided her 9 PII to MDC .

10           15. Defendant My Daily Choice, Inc. is a corporation with its principal place of business 11 at 6713 South Eastern Ave. Las Vegas, NV, 89119.

12           16. MDC markets and sells a variety of consumer products through its website and its 13 affiliates.

14   JURISDICTION AND VENUE

15           17. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over Plaintiff's claims under 28 U.S.C. §
16 1332(d)(2), because (a) there are 100 or more Class Members, (b) at least one Class Member is a
17 citizen of a state that is diverse from Defendant's citizenship, and (c) the matter in controversy 18 exceeds $5,000,000, exclusive of interests and costs.

19           18. This Court has diversity jurisdiction over Plaintiff's claims pursuant to 29 U.S.C. § 20 1332(a)(1) because Plaintiff and Defendant are citizens of different states and the amount in 21 controversy exceeds $75,000.

22           19. This Court has general personal jurisdiction over MDC because MDC maintains its 23 principal place of business in Nevada. This Court also has specific personal jurisdiction over MDC
24 because MDC engaged in the conduct underlying this action in Nevada, including the collection, 25 transmission, and inadequate safeguarding of Plaintiff's and Class Members' PII.

26           20. Venue is proper in this District pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391(a)(1) because a 27 substantial part of the events giving rise to this action occurred in this District. Within this District, 28

1 MDC maintains its principal place of business, entered into consumer transactions with Plaintiff,
2 and made its data security decisions leading to the Data Breach.

3 FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS
4 Overview of MDC

5 21. MDC is an online retail and multilevel marketing company that sells consumer
6 products including but not limited to hygiene products, weight management supplements, skin care
7 products, clothing, and food and beverages.

8 22. In the regular course of its business, MDC collects and maintains the PII of its 9 customers and affiliates.

10 23. MDC expressly represents in its “Privacy Statement” that “MyDailyChoice Inc. is 11 the party responsible for all data processing.”<sup>3</sup> MDC represents that outside a specific list of services 12 that require providing PII to third parties, it “do[es] not under any circumstance provide [their] 13 personal data to other companies or organizations, unless [it is] required to do so by law (for 14 example, when the police demand access to personal data in case of a suspected crime).”<sup>4</sup>
15 Unsurprisingly, none of the listed services and third-parties identified by MDC in its Privacy
16 Statement include providing this PII to cybercriminals, as it negligently permitted with the Data 17 Breach.

18 24. Plaintiff and Class Members are, or were, individuals who provided their PII to MDC
19 to obtain goods or services from Defendant, with the reasonable expectation that MDC would take 20 proper steps to safeguard that PII.

21 The Data Breach

22 25. On or about February 15, 2024, MDC discovered that unauthorized users had gained 23 access to a third-party hosted network containing PII on approximately 89,000 MDC customers and 24 affiliates.

26
27 <sup>3</sup> <https://mydailychoice.com/privacy-policy>

28 <sup>4</sup> Id.

1 26. On or about June 5, 2024, MDC reported the Data Breach to the state attorneys
2 general including those for Maine, Texas, Massachusetts, and California, and mailed notice letters
3 to affected customers and affiliates.

4 27. To date, MDC has not disclosed crucial information, including, but not limited to:
5 how the cybercriminals were able to exploit vulnerabilities in MDC's or its vendor's IT security
6 systems; the identity of the hosting vendor; the identity of the hacking group responsible for the Data
7 Breach; or specific steps MDC has taken to ensure that such an attack does not occur again.

8 Defendant Knew That Criminals Target PII

9 28. At all relevant times, MDC knew, or should have known Plaintiff's, and all other
10 Class Members' PII was a target for malicious actors.<sup>5</sup> Despite such knowledge, Defendant failed 11 to implement and maintain reasonable and appropriate data privacy and security measures to protect 12 Plaintiff's and Class Members' PII from cyber-attacks that MDC should have anticipated and 13 guarded against.

14 29. MDC data security obligations are and were particularly important given the 15 substantial increase in cyberattacks and/or data breaches widely reported on in the last few years. In 16 fact, in the wake of this rise in data breaches, the Federal Trade Commission has issued an abundance
17 of guidance for companies and institutions that maintain individuals' PII.<sup>6</sup>

1           30.     PII is a valuable property right.<sup>7</sup> The value of PII is a commodity is measurable.<sup>8</sup>
2     “Firms are now able to attain significant market valuations by employing business models predicated
3     on the successful use of personal data within the existing legal and regulatory frameworks.”<sup>9</sup>
4     American companies are estimated to have spent over $19 billion on acquiring personal data of 5     consumers in 2018.<sup>10</sup> In fact, it is so valuable to identity thieves that once PII has been disclosed,
6     criminals often trade it on the “cyber black-market,” or the “dark web,” for many years.

7           31.     As a result of its real value and the recent large-scale data breaches, identity thieves
8     and cyber criminals have openly posted credit card numbers, Social Security numbers, PII, and other
9     sensitive information directly on various Internet websites making the information publicly
10    available. This information from various breaches, including the information exposed in the Data
11    Breach, can be aggregated and become more valuable to thieves and more damaging to victims.

12          32.     Consumers place a high value on the privacy of their PII. Researchers shed light on 13    how much consumers value their data privacy—and the amount is considerable. Indeed, studies

1 confirm that “when privacy information is made more salient and accessible, some consumers are 2 willing to pay a premium to purchase from privacy protective websites.”<sup>11</sup>

3 33. Given these factors, any company that transacts business with a consumer and then
4 compromises the privacy of consumers’ PII has thus deprived that consumer of the full monetary 5 value of the consumer’s transaction with the company.

6 34. Therefore, MDC clearly knew or should have known of the risks of data breaches 7 and thus should have ensured that adequate protections were in place.

8 Theft of PII has Grave and Lasting Consequences for Victims

9 35. Data breaches are more than just technical violations of their victims’ rights. By 10 accessing a victim’s personal information, the cybercriminal can ransack the victim’s life: withdraw 11 funds from bank accounts, get new credit cards or loans in the victims’ name, lock the victim out of 12 his or her financial or social media accounts, send out fraudulent communications masquerading as 13 the victim, file false tax returns, destroy their credit rating, and more.<sup>12</sup>

14 36. Identity thieves use stolen personal information for a variety of crimes, including 15 credit card fraud, phone or utilities fraud, and bank/finance fraud.<sup>13</sup> In addition, identity thieves may 16 obtain a job using the victim’s Social Security Number, rent a house, or receive medical services in 17

24 <sup>13</sup> The FTC defines identity theft as “a fraud committed or attempted using the identifying 25 information of another person without authority.” 12 C.F.R. § 1022.3(h). The FRC describes 26 “identifying information” as “any name or number that may be used, alone or in conjunction 27 with any other information, to identify a specific person,” including, among other things, 28 “[n]ame, social security number, date of birth, official state or government issued driver’s license or identification number, alien registration number, government passport number, employer or taxpayer identification number.” 12 C.F.R. § 1022.3(g).

1 the victim's name, and may even give the victim's personal information to police during an arrest,
2 resulting in an arrest warrant being issued in the victim's name.<sup>14</sup>

3 37. Identity theft victims are frequently required to spend many hours and large sums of 4 money repairing the adverse impact to their credit.

5 38. Indeed, Plaintiff appears to have already been the victim of attempted fraud or 6 identity theft following the Data Breach, which cost her time and effort to address and has affected
7 her credit rating, decreasing her credit score by approximately 200 points and forcing her to replace 8 her bank debit card.

9 39. As the United States Government Accountability Office noted in a June 2007 report
10 on data breaches ("GAO Report"), identity thieves use identifying data such as Social Security
11 Numbers to open financial accounts, receive government benefits, and incur charges and credit in a 12 person's name.<sup>15</sup> As the GAO Report states, this type of identity theft is more harmful than any 13 other because it often takes time for the victim to become aware of the theft, and the theft can impact 14 the victim's credit rating adversely.

15 40. In addition, the GAO Report states that victims of this type of identity theft will face 16 "substantial costs and inconveniences repairing damage to their credit records" and their "good 17 name."<sup>16</sup>

18 41. There may be a time lag between when PII is stolen and when it is used.<sup>17</sup> According 19 to the GAO Report:

25 <sup>16</sup> Id. at 2, 9.

26
27 <sup>17</sup> For example, on average, it takes approximately three months for consumers to discover 28 their identity has been stolen and used, and it takes some individuals up to three years to learn that information. John W. Coffey, Difficulties in Determining Data Breach Impacts, 17 JOURNAL

1 [L]aw enforcement officials told us that in some cases, stolen data
2 may be held for up to a year or more before being used to commit
3 identity theft. Further, once stolen data have been sold or posted on 4 the Web, fraudulent use of that information may continue for years.
5 As a result, studies that attempt to measure the harm resulting from 6 data breaches cannot necessarily rule out all future harm.<sup>18</sup>

7 42. Such personal information is such a crucial commodity to identity thieves that once 8 the information has been compromised, criminals often trade the information on the “cyber black-9 market” for years. As a result of recent large-scale data breaches, identity thieves and cyber 10 criminals have openly posted stolen credit card numbers, Social Security Numbers, and other PII
11 directly on various Internet websites making the information publicly available.

12 43. Due to the highly sensitive nature of Social Security numbers, theft of Social Security
13 numbers in combination with other PII (e.g., name, address, date of birth) is akin to having a master
14 key to the gates of fraudulent activity. TIME quotes data security researcher Tom Stickley, who is 15 employed by companies to find flaws in their computer systems, as stating, “If I have your name
16 and your Social Security number and you haven’t gotten a credit freeze yet, you’re easy pickings.”<sup>19</sup>

17 44. Identity theft is not an easy problem to solve. In a survey, the Identity Theft Resource 18 Center found that most victims of identity crimes need more than a month to resolve issues stemming 19 from identity theft, and some need over a year.<sup>20</sup>

20 45. It is within this context that Plaintiff and all other Class Members must now live with 21 the knowledge that their PII is forever in cyberspace and was taken by people willing to use that 22 information for any number of improper purposes and scams, including making the information 23 available for sale on the black-market.

1 Damages Sustained by Plaintiff and the Other Class Members

2 46. Plaintiff and all other Class Members have suffered injury and damages, including,
3 but not limited to: (i) a substantially increased risk of identity theft—risks justifying expenditures
4 for protective and remedial services for which they are entitled to compensation; (ii) improper
5 disclosure of their PII; (iii) deprivation of the value of their PII, for which there is a well-established 6 national and international market; (iv) lost time and money incurred to mitigate and remediate the 7 effects of the Data Breach, including the increased risks of identity theft they face and will continue 8 to face; and (v) overpayment for the services that were received without adequate data security.

9 CLASS ALLEGATIONS

10 47. This action is brought and may be properly maintained as a class action pursuant to 11 Rule 23(b)(2) and (3) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

12 48. Plaintiff brings this action on behalf of herself and all members of the following Class 13 of similarly situated persons:

14 All persons whose PII was accessed in the Data Breach by 15 unauthorized persons, including all persons who were sent a notice
16 of the Data Breach.

17 49. Plaintiff reserves the right to amend the above definition, or to propose other or 18 additional classes, in subsequent pleadings and/or motions for class certification.

19 50. Plaintiff is a member of the Class.

20 51. Excluded from the Class is My Daily Choice, Inc. and its affiliates, parents, 21 subsidiaries, officers, agents, and directors, as well as the judge(s) presiding over this matter and the 22 clerks of said judge(s).

23 52. This action seeks both injunctive relief and damages.

24 53. Plaintiff and the Class satisfy the requirements for class certification for the following 25 reasons:

26 54. Numerosity of the Class. The members in the Class are so numerous that joinder of 27 all Class Members in a single proceeding would be impracticable. Class Members are readily 28

1 identifiable in MDC's records, which will be a subject of discovery. Upon information and belief,
2 there are over 89,000 Class Members impacted by the Data Breach.

3       55.     Common Questions of Law and Fact. There are questions of law and fact common
4 to the Class that predominate over any questions affecting only individual members, including:
5       a.     Whether MDC's data security systems prior to the Data Breach met the requirements
6       b.     Whether MDC's data security systems prior to the Data Breach met industry
7       c.     Whether MDC owed a duty to Plaintiff and Class Members to safeguard their PII;
8       d.     Whether MDC breached its duty to Plaintiff and Class Members to safeguard their 9       e.     Whether MDC failed to provide timely and adequate notice of the Data Breach to 10       f.     Whether Plaintiff's and Class Members' PII was compromised in the Data Breach;
11       g.     Whether Plaintiff and Class Members are entitled to injunctive relief; and 12       h.     Whether Plaintiff and Class Members are entitled to damages as a result of MDC's
13             conduct.

14       56.     Typicality. The claims or defenses of Plaintiff are typical of the claims or defenses
15 of the proposed Class because Plaintiff's claims are based upon the same legal theories and same
16 violations of law. Plaintiff and Class Members all had their PII stolen in the Data Breach. Plaintiff's
17 grievances, like the proposed Class Members' grievances, all arise out of the same business practices
18 and course of conduct by MDC.

19       57.     Adequacy of Representation. Plaintiff will fairly and adequately represent the 20 Class on whose behalf this action is prosecuted. Her interests do not conflict with the interests of 21 the Class.

22       58.     Plaintiff and her chosen attorneys -- Finkelstein, Blankinship, Frei-Pearson & Garber,
23 LLP ("FBFG") and The O'Mara Law Firm, P.C. -- are familiar with the subject matter of the lawsuit
24 and have full knowledge of the allegations contained in this Complaint.

25       59.     FBFG has been appointed as lead counsel in several complex class actions across the 26 country and has secured numerous favorable judgments in favor of its clients, including in cases
27 involving data breaches. FBFG's attorneys are competent in the relevant areas of the law and have 28 sufficient experience to vigorously represent the Class Members. Finally, FBFG possesses the

1 financial resources necessary to ensure that the litigation will not be hampered by a lack of financial 2 capacity and is willing to absorb the costs of the litigation.

3         60. Predominance. The common issues identified above arising from MDC's conduct
4 predominate over any issues affecting only individual Class Members. The common issues hinge
5 on MDC's common course of conduct giving rise to the legal rights sought to be enforced by Plaintiff
6 on behalf of herself and all other Class Members. Individual questions, if any, pale in comparison, 7 in both quantity and quality, to the numerous common questions that dominate this action.

8         61. Superiority. A class action is superior to any other available method for adjudicating
9 this controversy. The proposed class action is the surest way to fairly and expeditiously compensate
10 such a large a number of injured persons, to keep the courts from becoming paralyzed by hundreds
11 -- if not thousands -- of repetitive cases, and to reduce transaction costs so that the injured Class
12 Members can obtain the most compensation possible.

13         62. Class treatment presents a superior mechanism for fairly resolving similar issues and 14 claims without repetitious and wasteful litigation for many reasons, including the following:

- 15         a. It would be a substantial hardship for most individual members of the Class if they 16         were forced to prosecute individual actions. Many members of the Class are not in 17         the position to incur the expense and hardship of retaining their own counsel to 18         prosecute individual actions, which in any event might cause inconsistent results.
- 19         b. When the liability of Defendant has been adjudicated, the Court will be able to 20         determine the claims of all members of the Class. This will promote global relief and 21         judicial efficiency in that the liability of Defendant to all Class Members, in terms of 22         money damages due and in terms of equitable relief, can be determined in this single 23         proceeding rather than in multiple, individual proceedings where there will be a risk 24         of inconsistent and varying results.
- 25         c. A class action will permit an orderly and expeditious administration of the Class 26         claims, foster economies of time, effort, and expense, and ensure uniformity of 27         decisions. If Class Members are forced to bring individual suits, the transactional 28         costs, including those incurred by Defendant, will increase dramatically, and the courts will be clogged with a multiplicity of lawsuits concerning the very same subject matter, with the identical fact patterns and the same legal issues. A class action will promote a global resolution and will promote uniformity of relief as to the Class Members and as to Defendant.
- d. This lawsuit presents no difficulties that would impede its management by the Court as a class action. The class certification issues can be easily determined because the Class includes only MDC customers and affiliates, the legal and factual issues are narrow and easily defined, and the Class membership is limited. The Class does not contain so many persons that would make the Class notice procedures unworkable or overly expensive. The identity of the Class Members can be identified from 1 Defendant's records, such that direct notice to the Class Members would be 2 appropriate.

3 63. Injunctive relief. MDC has acted or refused to act on grounds generally applicable
4 to the Class as a whole, thereby making appropriate final injunctive or equitable relief on a class-5 wide basis.

6 CAUSES OF ACTION

7 COUNT I 8 NEGLIGENCE

9 64. Plaintiff realleges and incorporates by reference all preceding paragraphs as if fully 10 set forth herein.

11 65. As a condition of receiving MDC's products and services, Plaintiff and Class
12 Members were required to provide MDC with their PII.

13 66. MDC knew the risks of collecting and storing Plaintiff's and all other Class
14 Members' PII and the importance of maintaining secure systems. MDC knew of the many data 15 breaches that targeted companies that store PII in recent years.

16 67. MDC owed a duty to Plaintiff and all other Class Members to exercise reasonable 17 care in safeguarding and protecting their PII in its possession, custody, or control.

18 68. MDC's duty of care arose from, among other things:

- 19 a. the special relationship that existed between MDC and its customers, as only MDC
20 was in a position to ensure that its systems and its vendor's systems were sufficient 21 to protect against the harm to Plaintiff and Class Members from the Data Breach.
- 22 b. Section A of the Federal Trade Commission Act, 15 U.S.C. § 45, which prohibits 23 "unfair . . . practices in or affecting commerce," including, as interpreted and 24 enforced by the FTC, the unfair practice of failing to use reasonable measures to 25 protect confidential data.
- 26 c. MDC's representations in its Privacy Statement;
- 27 d. Industry standards for the protection of confidential information
- 28 e. General common law duties to adopt reasonable data security measures to protect customer PII and to act a reasonable and prudent person under the same or similar circumstances would act; and
- f. State statutes requiring reasonable data security measures, including, but not limited to, Nev. R. Stat. § 603A.210, which states that business possessing personal information of Nevada residents "shall implement and maintain reasonable security measures to protect those records from authorized access."

1           69. Plaintiff and Class Members provided and entrusted their PII to MDC with the 2 understanding that MDC would take reasonable measures to safeguard their information.

3           70. Given the sensitivity and value of the PII MDC collected, and the extensive resources
4 at its disposal, MDC should have identified the vulnerabilities to their systems and prevented the 5 Data Breach from occurring.

6           71. Defendant breached its common law, statutory, and other duties -- and thus, was 7 negligent -- by failing to use reasonable measures to protect Plaintiff's and Class Members' PII, and 8 by failing to provide timely notice of the Data Breach. The specific negligent acts and omissions 9 committed by Defendant include, but are not limited to, the following:

- 10           a. failing to adopt, implement, and maintain adequate security measures to safeguard
11 Plaintiff's and the Class Members' PII;
12           b. failing to adequately monitor the security of its and its vendors' networks and 13 systems;
14           c. allowing unauthorized access to Plaintiff's and the Class Members' PII; and 15           d. failing to warn Plaintiff and other Class Members about the Data Breach in a timely 16 manner so that they could take appropriate steps to mitigate the potential for identity 17 theft and other damages.

18           72. MDC's violations of the FTCA and state data security statutes constitute negligence
19 per se for purposes of establishing the duty and breach elements of Plaintiff's negligence claim.
20 Those statutes were designed to protect a group to which Plaintiff belongs and to prevent the type 21 of harm that resulted from the Data Breach.

22           73. MDC owed a duty of care to Plaintiff and Class Members because they were 23 foreseeable and probable victims of any inadequate security practices.

24           74. It was foreseeable that MDC's failure to use reasonable measures to protect PII and 25 to provide timely notice of the Data Breach would result in injury to Plaintiff and other Class 26 Members. Further, the breach of security, unauthorized access, and resulting injury to Plaintiff and 27 Class Members were reasonably foreseeable.

28           75. It was therefore foreseeable that the failure to adequately safeguard PII would result in one or more of the following injuries to Plaintiff and the members of the proposed Class: ongoing, imminent, certainly impending threat of identity theft crimes, fraud, and abuse, resulting in monetary loss and economic harm; actual identity theft crimes, fraud, and abuse, resulting in monetary loss

1 and economic harm; loss of the confidentiality of the stolen confidential data; the illegal sale of the 2 compromised data on the deep web black market; expenses and/or time spent on credit monitoring
3 and identity theft insurance; time spent scrutinizing bank statements, credit card statements, and 4 credit reports; expenses and/or time spent initiating fraud alerts; decreased credit scores and ratings;
5 lost work time; and other economic and non-economic harm.

6 76. MDC knew or reasonably should have known of the inherent risks in collecting and 7 storing the PII of Plaintiff and Class Members and the critical importance of providing adequate 8 security of that information, yet despite the foregoing had inadequate cyber-security systems and 9 protocols in place to secure the PII.

10 77. As a result of the foregoing, MDC unlawfully breached its duty to use reasonable 11 care to protect and secure the PII of Plaintiff and the Class, which Plaintiff and Class Members were 12 required to provide to MDC as a condition of receiving goods or services.

13 78. Plaintiff and Class Members reasonably relied on MDC to safeguard their 14 information, and while MDC was in an exclusive position to protect against harm from a data breach, 15 MDC negligently and carelessly squandered that opportunity. As a proximate result, Plaintiff and 16 Class Members suffered and continue to suffer the consequences of the Data Breach.

17 79. MDC's negligence was the proximate cause of harm to Plaintiff and members of the 18 Class.

19 80. Had MDC not failed to implement and maintain adequate security measures to 20 protect the PII of its consumers, Plaintiff's and Class Members' PII would not have been exposed to 21 unauthorized access and stolen, and they would not have suffered any harm.

22 81. As a direct and proximate result of MDC's negligence, Plaintiff and Class Members
23 have been seriously and permanently damaged by the Data Breach. Specifically, Plaintiff and Class
24 Members have been injured by, inter alia: (i) a substantially increased risk of identity theft—risks 25 justifying expenditures for protective and remedial services for which they are entitled to 26 compensation; (ii) the improper compromise, publication, and theft of their PII; (iii) breach of the 27 confidentiality of their PII; (iv) deprivation of the value of their PII, for which there is a well-
28 established national and international market; (v) lost time and money incurred, and future costs

1 required, to mitigate and remediate the effects of the Data Breach, including the increased risks of
2 identity theft they face and will continue to face; and (vi) overpayment for the services that were
3 received without adequate data security.

4 82. Plaintiff and the Class seek damages, injunctive relief, and other and further relief as 5 the Court may deem just and proper.

6 COUNT II
7 NEGLIGENCE PER SE

8 83. Plaintiff realleges and incorporates by reference all preceding paragraphs as if fully 9 set forth herein.

10 84. MDC's duties arise from, inter alia, Section 5 of the FTC Act ("FTCA"), 15 U.S.C.
11 § 45(a)(1), which prohibits "unfair . . . practices in or affecting commerce," including, as interpreted 12 by the FTC, the unfair act or practice by a business, such as MDC, of failing to employ reasonable 13 measures to protect and secure PII.

14 85. MDC's duties also arise from Nev. R. Stat. § 603A.210, which states that business
15 possessing personal information of Nevada residents "shall implement and maintain reasonable 16 security measures to protect those records from authorized access."

17 86. MDC violated Section 5 of the FTCA and Nev. R. Stat. § 603A.210 by failing to use 18 reasonable measures to protect Plaintiff's and all Class Members' PII and not complying with 19 applicable industry standards. MDC's conduct was particularly unreasonable given the nature and 20 amount of PII it obtains and stores, and the foreseeable consequences of a data breach involving PII,
21 including, specifically, the substantial damages that would result to Plaintiff and other Class 22 Members.

23 87. Plaintiff and Class Members are within the class of persons that Section 5 of the 24 FTCA and Nev. R. Stat. § 603A.210 were intended to guard against.

25 88. It was reasonable foreseeable to MDC that its failure to exercise reasonable care in 26 safeguarding and protecting Plaintiff's and Class Members' PII by failing to design, adopt,
27 implement, control, direct, oversee, manage, monitor, and audit appropriate data security processes, 28 controls, policies, procedures, protocols, and software and hardware systems, would result in the

1 release, disclosure, and dissemination of Plaintiff's and Class Members' PII to unauthorized 2 individuals.

3 89. The injury and harm that Plaintiff and Class Members suffered was the direct and 4 proximate result of MDC's violations of Section 5 of the FTCA and Nev. R. Stat. § 603A.210.
5 Plaintiff and Class Members have suffered (and will continue to suffer) economic damages and other
6 injury and actual harm in the form of, inter alia: (i) a substantially increased risk of identity theft—
7 risks justifying expenditures for protective and remedial services for which they are entitled to 8 compensation; (ii) the improper compromise, publication, and theft of their PII; (iii) breach of the 9 confidentiality of their PII; (iv) deprivation of the value of their PII, for which there is a well-
10 established national and international market; (v) lost time and money incurred, and future costs
11 required, to mitigate and remediate the effects of the Data Breach, including the increased risks of 12 identity theft they face and will continue to face; and (vi) overpayment for the services that were 13 received without adequate data security.

14 90. Plaintiff and the Class seek damages, injunctive relief, and other and further relief as 15 the Court may deem just and proper.

16 COUNT III
BREACH OF FIDUCIARY DUTY

17 91. Plaintiff realleges and incorporates by reference all preceding paragraphs as if fully
18 set forth herein.

19 92. Plaintiff and Class Members gave MDC their PII in confidence, believing that MDC
20 would protect that information. Plaintiff and Class Members would not have provided MDC with 21 this private information had they known it would not be adequately protected. MDC's acceptance 22 and storage of Plaintiff's and Class Members' PII created a fiduciary relationship between MDC on 23 one hand and Plaintiff and Class Members on the other. In light of this relationship, MDC must act 24 primarily for the benefit of its customers and affiliates, which includes safeguarding and protecting 25 Plaintiff's and Class Members' PII.

26 93. MDC has a fiduciary duty to act for the benefit of Plaintiff and Class Members upon 27 matters within the scope of their relationship. It breached that duty by failing to properly protect the 28

1 integrity of the system containing Plaintiff's and Class Members' PII and otherwise failing to 2 safeguard Plaintiff's and Class Members' PII that it collected.

3 94. As a direct and proximate result of MDC's breaches of its fiduciary duties, Plaintiff
4 and Class Members have suffered and will continue to suffer injury, including, but not limited to:
5 (i) a substantially increased risk of identity theft—risks justifying expenditures for protective and 6 remedial services for which they are entitled to compensation; (ii) the improper compromise,
7 publication, and theft of their PII; (iii) deprivation of the value of their PII, for which there is a well-
8 established national and international market; (iv) lost time and money incurred, and future costs
9 required, to mitigate and remediate the effects of the Data Breach, including the increased risks of 10 identity theft they face and will continue to face; (v) the continued risk to their PII which remains in 11 MDC's possession; and (vi) overpayment for the services that were received without adequate data 12 security.

13 COUNT IV
BREACH OF IMPLIED CONTRACT

14 95. Plaintiff realleges and incorporates by reference all preceding paragraphs as if fully 15 set forth herein.

16 96. MDC required Plaintiff and Class Members to provide their PII in order to purchase 17 its goods and services. By virtue of accepting Plaintiff's and Class Members' PII in the regular 18 course of business, MDC implicitly represented that its data security systems were reasonably 19 sufficient to safeguard that PII.

20 97. Plaintiff and Class Members entrusted their PII to MDC, and in so doing, they entered 21 into implied contracts with MDC.

22 98. Pursuant to these implied contracts, in exchange for the consideration and PII
23 provided by Plaintiff and Class Members, MDC agreed to, among other things, and Plaintiff
24 understood that MDC would: (1) implement reasonable measures to protect the security and 25 confidentiality of Plaintiff's and Class Members' PII; (2) protect Plaintiff's and Class Members' PII
26 in compliance with federal and state laws and regulations and industry standards.
27
28

1           99.     The protection of PII was a material term of the implied contracts between Plaintiff
2 and Class Members, on the one hand, and MDC, on the other hand. Indeed, as set forth supra, MDC
3 recognized its duty to provide adequate data security and ensure the privacy of its consumers' PII
4 with its practice of providing a privacy statement on its website.<sup>21</sup> Had Plaintiff and Class Members
5 known that MDC would not adequately protect its consumers' PII, they would not have received 6 goods or services from MDC.

7           100.    Plaintiff and Class Members performed their obligations under the implied contract
8 when they provided MDC with their PII and paid for goods and services from MDC.

9           101.    MDC breached its obligations under its implied contracts with Plaintiff and Class
10 Members in failing to implement and maintain reasonable security measures to protect and secure 11 their PII and in failing to implement and maintain security protocols and procedures to protect 12 Plaintiff's and Class Members' PII in a manner that complies with applicable laws, regulations, and 13 industry standards.

14           102.    MDC's breach of its obligations of its implied contracts with Plaintiff and Class
15 Members directly resulted in the Data Breach and the injuries that Plaintiff and all other Class
16 Members have suffered from the Data Breach.

17           103.    Plaintiff and all other Class Members were harmed by MDC's breach of implied
18 contracts because: (i) they paid for data security protection they did not receive; (ii) they face a 19 substantially increased risk of identity theft—risks justifying expenditures for protective and 20 remedial services for which they are entitled to compensation; (iii) their PII was improperly 21 disclosed to unauthorized individuals; (iv) the confidentiality of their PII has been breached; (v) they 22 were deprived of the value of their PII, for which there is a well-established national and 23 international market; (vi) lost time and money incurred, and future costs required, to mitigate and 24 remediate the effects of the Data Breach, including the increased risks of identity theft they face and 25 will continue to face; and (vii) overpayment for the services that were received without adequate 26 data security.

27
28

COUNT V
UNJUST ENRICHMENT

2           104. Plaintiff realleges and incorporates by reference all preceding paragraphs as if fully 3 set forth herein.

5           105. This claim is pleaded in the alternative to the breach of implied contract claim.

6           106. Plaintiff and Class Members conferred a monetary benefit upon MDC in the form of 7 monies paid for goods and services.

8           107. MDC accepted or had knowledge of the benefits conferred upon it by Plaintiff and 9 Class Members. MDC also benefitted from the receipt of Plaintiff's and Class Members' PII, as this 10 was used to facilitate payment. Additionally, MDC used Plaintiff and Class Members' PII for a 11 variety of profit-generating purposes, including marketing.
12

13           108. As a result of MDC's conduct, Plaintiff and Class Members suffered actual damages
14 in an amount equal to the difference in value between their payments made with reasonable data
15 privacy and security practices and procedures that Plaintiff and Class Members paid for, and those 16 payments without reasonable data privacy and security practices and procedures that they received.

17           109. MDC should not be permitted to retain the money belonging to Plaintiff and Class 18 Members because MDC failed to adequately implement the data privacy and security procedures for 19 itself that Plaintiff and Class Members paid for and that were otherwise mandated by federal, state, 20 and local laws and industry standards.
21

22           110. MDC should be compelled to provide for the benefit of Plaintiff and Class Members
23 all unlawful proceeds received by it as a result of the conduct and Data Breach alleged herein.
24

COUNT VI
VIOLATION OF THE NEVADA CONSUMER FRAUD ACT
NEV. REV. STAT. § 41.600

26           111. Plaintiff realleges and incorporates by reference all preceding paragraphs as if fully 27 set forth herein.
28

1           112. The Nevada Consumer Fraud Act, Nev. Rev. Stat. § 41.600 states:

- 2                   1. An action may be brought by any person who is a victim of consumer fraud.
3                   2. As used in this section, “consumer fraud” means: . . . (e) A deceptive trade
4                   practice as defined in NRS 598.095 to 598.0925, inclusive.

5           113. The Nevada Deceptive Trade Practices Act, Nev. Rev. Stat. § 598.0923(2) states: “A 6 person engages in a ‘deceptive trade practice’ when in the course of his or her business or occupation
7 he or she knowingly: . . . 2) Fails to disclose a material fact in connection with the sale or lease of 8 goods or services.” MDC engaged in a deceptive trade practice, as defined by this provision, because 9 it failed to disclose the material fact that its data security systems and practices were deficient and 10 inadequate to protect consumers’ PII.

11           114. MDC knew or should have known that its data security was deficient, especially 12 considering its vast resources and the amount and types of PII it collected from Plaintiff and Class 13 Members. Thus, MDC had knowledge of facts that constituted the omission.

14           115. MDC’s inadequate data security was a material fact connected to the sale of its goods
15 and services because MDC required Plaintiff and Class Members to provide their PII to receive its 16 services, as explained in more detail above. Plaintiff and Class Members would not have provided
17 their PII and/or paid for obtained MDC’s goods or services had they known of MDC’s inadequate
18 data security.

19           116. Nev. Rev. Stat. § 598.0923(3) additionally defines a “deceptive trade practice” as 20 when: “[I]n the course of his or her business or occupation[, a person] knowingly: . . . 3) Violates a 21 state or federal statute or regulation relating to the sale or lease of . . . services.” MDC breached 22 multiple statutes, each of which is an independently sufficient predicate act for purposes of 23 establishing its violation of § 598.0923(3), and as follows, Nev. Rev. Stat. § 41.600. MDC also 24 knew or should have known that it violated each of these statutes.

25           117. First, MDC breached Nev. Rev. Stat. § 603A.210(1), as alleged in further detail
26 above, which requires: “A data collector that maintains records which contain personal information 27 of a resident of this State shall implement and maintain reasonable security measures to protect 28

1 those records from unauthorized access, acquisition, . . . use, modification or disclosure.” (Emphasis
2 added).

3 118. Nev. Rev. Stat. § 603A.030 defines “data collector” as including “any . . . corporation,
4 . . . or any other type of business entity or association that, for any purpose, whether by automated
5 collection or otherwise, handles, collects, disseminates, or otherwise deals with nonpublic personal 6 information.” MDC specifically represents in its Privacy Statement that “MyDailyChoice Inc. is the 7 party responsible for all data processing.”<sup>22</sup> Thus, MDC is a data collector, subject to the 8 requirements of Nev. Rev. Stat. § 603A.210(1).

9 119. Second, MDC also violated Nev. Rev. Stat. § 59.0923(2), as alleged above in this 10 Count.

11 120. Third, MDC violated the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 45, as alleged in Count II.

12 121. MDC failed to implement and maintain reasonable security measures, evidenced by 13 the occurrence and severity of this Data Breach.

14 122. MDC’s violations of these statutes were done knowingly, satisfying that requirement 15 of 598.0923(3). MDC knew or should have known that its data security practices were deficient, as 16 explained in further detail above.

17 123. Plaintiff and Class Members were denied a benefit conferred on them by the Nevada 18 legislature.

19 124. Nev. Rev. Stat. § 41.600(3) states that if the plaintiff prevails, the court “shall award:
20 (a) Any damages that the claimant has sustained; (b) Any equitable relief that the court deems 21 appropriate; and (c) the claimant’s costs in the action and reasonable attorney’s fees.”

22 125. As a direct and proximate result of the foregoing, Plaintiff and Class Members
23 suffered all forms of damages alleged herein. Plaintiff’s harms constitute compensable damages 24 under Nev. Rev. Stat. § 41.600(3).

25 126. Plaintiff and Class Members are also entitled to all forms of injunctive relief sought 26 herein.
