This advice has made me.....

People will line up to give you their opinions on the world, success, happiness, health, marriage, etc.. do NOT listen to anyone that you aren't willing to trade lifestyles with and or doesn't have what you want. Too many people let unqualified people infiltrate their minds.

If someone isn't wealthy don't listen to them on business / success.

If someone is always sick & out of shape.. don't listen to them about health.

If someone didn't have a successful marriage don't listen to them about relationships.

PS: just because someone has your same last name doesn't mean they're qualified to give you advice. Tough truth for some of you but it's still the truth.

"Alex who do you listen to?"
