FOR THE EASTERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

Mazol Nisimova, individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated,

Plaintiff,

v.

Klar & Co LLC,

Defendant.

Civil Action No.

CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT

JURY TRIAL DEMANDED

Plaintiff Mazol Nisimova (“Plaintiff”) brings this action on behalf of herself and all others similarly situated against Klar & Co LLC (“Defendant”). Plaintiff makes the following allegations pursuant to the investigation of her counsel and based upon information and belief, except as to the allegations specifically pertaining to herself, which are based on her personal knowledge.

NATURE OF THE ACTION

1. Defendant formulates, manufactures, advertises, and sells its Azure “Collagen” cosmetics (the “Products”)¹ throughout the United States, including in New York. Defendant markets its Products in a systematically misleading manner by conspicuously misrepresenting on the labels of the Products that they contain “Collagen.”

2. Despite the Products’ labels indicating the inclusion of sought-after “Collagen,” Defendant prominently asserts in its advertising that “Azure products are always... Vegan.” This claim implies that the collagen in the Products cannot be derived from animal sources. Instead, the Products use a fake imitation of collagen derived from a synthetic extract of the bark and stems of the Acacia seyal tree (i.e., “acacia seyal gum extract” or “Acacia Gum”).

3. Defendant’s most recent labeling of its Products is depicted below:

4. Defendant's deceptive conduct is further underscored by the fact that similar cosmetics representing collagen do, in fact, contain the genuine animal-sourced ingredient, as depicted below:

5. As a result of its deceptive conduct, Defendant is, and continues to be, unjustly enriched at the expense of their consumers.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

6. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this action pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(2)(a) because this case is a class action where the aggregate claims of all members of the proposed class are in excess of $5,000,000.00 exclusive of interest and costs, there are over 100 members of the putative class, and at least one class member is a citizen of a state different than Defendant.

7. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendant because it conducts substantial business within New York, including the sale, marketing, and advertising of the Products. Furthermore, a substantial portion of the events giving rise to Plaintiff's claims occurred in this State, including Plaintiff's purchases.

8. Venue is proper in this District pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391 because Defendant conducts substantial business in this District and a substantial part of the events giving rise to Plaintiff's claims took place within this District.

PARTIES

9. Plaintiff Mazol Nisimova is a citizen of New York, who resides in Queens, New York. Plaintiff purchased Defendant's Products (including, but not limited to, Defendant's "24K GOLD & COLLAGEN FIRMING SHEET FACE MASK: 5 PACK" and "HYALURONIC & COLLAGEN ANTI-AGING SHEET FACEMASK: 5 PACK" Products) for her personal use on various occasions within the applicable statute of limitations, with her most recent purchases taking place on or about August of 2024. Plaintiff Nisimova made these purchases from local beauty and cosmetics stores located in New York. Prior to making her purchases, Plaintiff Nisimova saw that the Products were labeled and marketed as containing "Collagen." Plaintiff Nisimova relied on Defendant's representations when she decided to purchase the Products over comparable products that did not make those claims. Plaintiff Nisimova saw Defendant's representations prior to and at the time of her purchases and understood them as a representation and warranty that the Products contained the sought-after and beneficial animal protein-based collagen. Plaintiff Nisimova relied on these representations and warranties in deciding to purchase the Products. Accordingly, those representations and warranties were part of the basis of her bargains, in that she would not have purchased the Products on the same terms had she known that those representations were not true. Furthermore, in making her purchases, Plaintiff Nisimova paid a substantial price premium due to Defendant's false and misleading representations concerning the Products. Plaintiff Nisimova, however, did not receive the benefit of her bargains because those representations were not, in fact, true.

10. Defendant Klar & Co LLC is a corporation organized under the laws of New Jersey, with its principal place of business located at 3051 NE 164th Street North Miami Beach, FL 33160. Defendant manufacturers, packages, labels, advertises, markets, distributes and/or sells the Products in New York and throughout the United States.

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

11. Collagen is the most prevalent protein found in animals, fish, and humans.² This insoluble fibrous protein is found in tendons and ligaments, as well as the cornea, cartilage, bones, gut, blood vessels and intervertebral discs.³

12. Collagen is an animal protein found primarily in the connective tissues of animals, including their skin, bones, and cartilage. Collagen is not found in plants.

13. In recent years, collagen has skyrocketed in popularity due to its purported anti-aging benefits in maintaining youthful skin, hair, and nails.⁴ As a result, sales of collagen more than doubled between 2018 and 2020 and are expected to reach over $16 billion by 2028.

14. Aware of this consumer demand, market players rushed to include collagen within their product lines. Collagen is widely available today in various forms, including as a food ingredient, in dietary supplements, and, pertinent to this context, in cosmetics.

15. Defendant is among the major players that have capitalized on this demand. However, unlike most manufacturers, Defendant does not actually use collagen in its Products at all. Instead, Defendant's Products are comprised of acacia seyal gum extract ("Acacia Gum")—a highly processed ingredient that is extracted as a natural exudate from the bark and stems of the Acacia seyal tree, which is native to Africa.⁵

16. This highly processed ingredient is commonly used as a humectant, thickening agent, and emulsifier in formulations. Despite Defendant's mischaracterization, Acacia Gum, however, is not collagen. Nor could it be, given that collagen is not found in plants.⁶

17. Defendant, having superior knowledge of the market and the composition of its Products, has misled consumers into believing that they were purchasing a sought-after ingredient (i.e., collagen). The use of Acacia Gum instead of collagen represents a significant cost-saving measure for Defendant. Manufacturing collagen, particularly marine collagen, is notably more expensive due to the complex processes involved in raw material procurement, extraction, and rigorous quality control measures.⁷ In contrast, Acacia Gum is generally less costly to produce and process. This substitution likely results in a higher profit margin for Defendant, as the production costs for Acacia Gum are substantially lower than those associated with genuine animal collagen manufacturing.

18. Defendant's misleading and deceptive practices proximately caused harm to Plaintiff and the proposed class members who suffered an injury in fact and lost money or property as a result of Defendant's deceptive conduct.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

19. Plaintiff brings this action on behalf of herself and all other similarly situated persons pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 23(a), (b)(1), and (b)(3). Specifically, the Classes are defined as:

20. Nationwide Class: All persons in the United States who, during the maximum

Urry, Campbell Biology 688 (Australian and New Zealand ed. 2015) ("The most abundant of these proteins is collagen, which is not found in plants or fungi."); J.E. period of time permitted by law, purchased Defendant's Products primarily for personal, family or household purposes, and not for resale.

21. New York Subclass: All persons residing in New York who, during the maximum period of time permitted by the law, purchased Defendant's Products primarily for personal, family or household purposes, and not for resale.

22. The Classes do not include (1) Defendant, its officers, and/or its directors; or (2) the Judge to whom this case is assigned and the Judge's staff.

23. Plaintiff reserves the right to amend the above class definitions and add additional classes and subclasses as appropriate based on investigation, discovery, and the specific theories of liability.

24. Community of Interest: There is a well-defined community of interest among members of the Classes, and the disposition of the claims of these members of the Classes in a single action will provide substantial benefits to all parties and to the Court.

25. Numerosity: While the exact number of members of the Classes is unknown to Plaintiff at this time and can only be determined by appropriate discovery, upon information and belief, members of the Classes number in the millions. Members of the Classes may also be notified of the pendency of this action by mail and/or publication through the distribution records of Defendant and third-party retailers and vendors.

26. Existence and predominance of common questions of law and fact: Common questions of law and fact exist as to all members of the Classes and predominate over any questions affecting only individuals of the Classes. These common legal and factual questions include, but are not limited to:

(a) Whether the marketing, advertising, packaging, labeling, and other promotional materials for the Products are deceptive;

(b) Whether Defendant fraudulently induced Plaintiff and the members of the Classes into purchasing the Products;

(c) Whether Plaintiff and the members of the Classes have suffered damages as a result of Defendant's actions and the amount thereof;

(d) Whether Plaintiff and the members of the Classes are entitled to statutory damages; and

(e) Whether Plaintiff and the members of the Classes are entitled to attorney's fees and costs.

27. Typicality: The claims of the named Plaintiff are typical of the claims of other members of the Classes in that the named Plaintiff was exposed to Defendant's false and misleading marketing, purchased Defendant's Products, and suffered a loss as a result of those purchases.

28. Adequacy: Plaintiff will fairly and adequately represent and protect the interests of the Classes as required by Federal Rule of Civil Procedure Rule 23(a)(4). Plaintiff is an adequate representative of the Classes because she has no interests which are adverse to the interests of the members of the Classes. Plaintiff is committed to the vigorous prosecution of this action and, to that end, Plaintiff has retained skilled and experienced counsel.

29. Moreover, the proposed Classes can be maintained because they satisfy both Rule 23(a) and 23(b)(3) because questions of law or fact common to the Classes predominate over any questions affecting only individual members and a Class Action is superior to all other available methods of the fair and efficient adjudication of the claims asserted in this action under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(b)(3) because:

(a) The expense and burden of individual litigation makes it economically unfeasible for members of the Classes to seek to redress their claims other than through the procedure of a class action;

(b) If separate actions were brought by individual members of the Classes, the resulting duplicity of lawsuits would cause members of the Classes to seek to redress their claims other than through the procedure of a class action; and

(c) Absent a class action, Defendant likely will retain the benefits of its wrongdoing, and there would be a failure of justice.
