

What would you do if your income disappeared over night?

brittany.jo.rush · Follow

RetroJ · BADDIES ALERT

brittany.jo.rush 7w

With all the buzz about TikTok possibly going away, I can't help but think about how many people rely on social media for their income. It's a reminder that we should never put all our eggs in one basket.

That's exactly why I'm so grateful for my business with Arbonne. It's not just social media—it's a real business with consumable products, a global customer base, and a community that thrives no matter what happens to an app.

If the thought of losing your income overnight has you rethinking things, let's chat. With the uncertainty of the world, we really never know what could happen. Would you be okay if you lost

43 likes

January 18

Add a comment...

What would you do if your income disappeared over night?

brittany.jo.rush · Follow

RetroJ · BADDIES ALERT

consumable products, a global customer base, and a community that thrives no matter what happens to an app.

If the thought of losing your income overnight has you rethinking things, let's chat. With the uncertainty of the world, we really never know what could happen. Would you be okay if you lost your 9-5 right now? Or got laid off? Or your spouse did? This business helps prepare you for impact.

Whether you want a Plan B or a business that's yours no matter what trends come and go, I'd love to show you what's possible.

Comment or DM me "Plan B" to learn more!

43 likes

January 18

Add a comment...

