I absolutely LOVE @instagram it has bought so many incredible people into my life. @the.banana.warrior and I connected on our love of Fashion, Travel and Entrepreneurship. We would always comment on each others pics and stories. Julia at the time lived in Thailand but mentioned that she's was going to pop over to Europe in the summer. I dropped her a message and said, if you come to London, we need to meet for coffee. A few months later I got a DM and it was Julia "I'm in town" and I was just working from home, so I popped on a fabulous outfit and went to meet her. From the second we met, we clicked. Julia is a very successful business coach and when I shared with her what I do in @arbonne she instantly said "oh coach and when I shared with her what I do in @arbonne she instantly said "oh wow, I need to do this".... and so our journey began. When you have an entrepreneurial mindset and know you are made for more having an Arbonne business as another income stream is an absolute no brainer. Julia also decided to move back to the UK to start a new chapter of her life- I'm so glad she did as I have a London friend now 🥰

Julia and I now get to build our businesses together, have fun, becoming successful and help other woman do the same.

If you believe you are meant for more, have ambition and want to be part of an amazing community then perhaps this is the sign to take a proper look at
