Don't panic in the pause; the best is yet to come 🙏❤️

Lil dump from the past few days. It's wild, was listening to a song by maverick city and the lyrics said "I've still got joy in chaos, peace that makes no sense" and that hit, HARD. No matter how insane life gets, I always look for these moments of peace, happiness, love and laughter because I know my creator really doing things behind the scenes that don't make sense to me. If I keep that mindset then I know things are happening for me and not to me, so why would I miss out on those cherished moments?

Tomorrow really isn't promised, yesterday is gone, so these moments are
