DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

Plaintiff Rateb Qutami (“Plaintiff”), individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated, bring this class action complaint against Defendants Mondelēz International, Inc. and Intercontinental Great Brands LLC, and Does 1 through 20, inclusive (collectively “Defendants”) and alleges as follows:

SUMMARY OF THE ACTION

1. This is a class action lawsuit brought on behalf of all purchasers of Defendants’ Halls branded “natural flavor with other natural flavor” dietary supplement drops products (the “Products”), sold online and at retail locations throughout California and the United States.

2. Defendants falsely and deceptively advertise the Products as having “natural flavor with other natural flavor” (“Natural Flavor Representation”). However, contrary to the Products’ Natural Flavor Representation, as explained in detail below, the Products contain citric acid — a well-documented, FDA defined artificial flavoring ingredient.

3. Through falsely, misleadingly, and deceptively labeling the Products, Defendants seek to take advantage of consumers’ desire for truly premium products that are free from artificial flavoring agents. Yet, Defendants do so at the expense of unwitting consumers, as well as Defendants’ lawfully acting competitors, over whom Defendants maintain an unfair competitive advantage.

4. Plaintiff brings this action individually and in a representative capacity on behalf of similarly situated consumers who purchased the Products during the relevant Class Period (Class and/or Subclass defined infra), for dual primary objectives: One, Plaintiff seeks, on Plaintiff’s individual behalf and on behalf of the Class/Subclass, a monetary recovery of the price premium Plaintiff and consumers overpaid for Products that should, but fail to, comport with the Natural Flavor Representation (which may include, for example, damages, restitution, disgorgement, and/or any applicable penalties, fines, or punitive/exemplary damages) solely to the extent that the causes of action pled herein permit such recovery. Two, Plaintiff seeks, on his individual behalf and on behalf of the Class/Subclass, injunctive relief to stop Defendants’ unlawful manufacture, marketing, and sale of the Products with the Natural Flavor Representation to avoid or mitigate the risk of deceiving the public into believing that the Products conform to the Natural Flavor Representation, by requiring Defendants to change their business practices, which may include one or more of the following: removal or modification of the Natural Flavor Representation from the Products' labels, removal or modification of the Natural Flavor Representation from the Products' advertising, modification of the Products' formulation be it a change in ingredients or its sourcing and manufacturing processes, and/or discontinuance of the Products' manufacture, marketing, and/or sale.

5. A true and correct copy of the Product label is pictured below.

Halls Defense Assorted Citrus Vitamin C Drops¹

¹ The Halls Defense Assorted Citrus Vitamin C Drops product includes but is not limited to the following counts: (a) 9 drops, case of 20; (b) 25 drops; (c) 30 drops; and (d) 80 drops.

6. Consumers are deceived by Defendants' labeling and advertising of the Products as having "natural flavor with other natural flavor" believing that they are purchasing dietary supplement products without artificial flavors and flavoring ingredients that have undergone significant chemical modification. Consumers rely on Defendants' labeling and advertising of the Products to be truthful and would not know that the Products actually contain a well-documented artificial flavoring ingredient.

7. Reasonable consumers such as Plaintiff do not have specialized knowledge necessary to identify ingredients in the Products as being inconsistent with Defendants' Natural Flavor Representation.

8. Defendants know that consumers are willing to pay more for natural, healthy products without any artificial flavors, and advertises the Products with the intention that consumers rely on the representation made on the front of the Products' packaging that the Products have "natural flavor with other natural flavor."

9. By falsely labeling the Products as having “natural flavor with other natural flavor,” Defendants have profited from consumers’ preference for supplement products that are made with exclusively natural flavors without significant chemical modification.

PARTIES

10. Plaintiff: Plaintiff is, and at all times relevant hereto was, a citizen of California. Plaintiff purchased the Halls Defense Drops from a Vons location in Los Angeles, CA in or around January of 2026. In making his purchase, Plaintiff relied upon Defendants' labeling and advertising claims, namely, the Natural Flavor Representation clearly printed on the front label of the Products. These claims were prepared and approved by Defendants and their agents and disseminated statewide and nationwide, to encourage consumers to purchase the Products. If Plaintiff had known that the Products contained artificial flavoring ingredients, then Plaintiff would not have purchased the Products, or he would have purchased it at a substantially lower price.

11. Plaintiff's Future Harm: Plaintiff would like to purchase the Products again only if he can be sure that Defendants are compliant with the state consumer protection laws. Plaintiff continues to see Defendants' Products in stores available for purchase, and desires to purchase them again if the representation regarding the Natural Flavor Representation was in fact true. Since Plaintiff would like to purchase the Products again to obtain a supplement product that, as advertised, is truly free from artificial and unnatural flavoring ingredients, Plaintiff would purchase it again in the future—despite the fact that it was once marred by false advertising or labeling—as Plaintiff would reasonably, but incorrectly, assume the Products were improved (contain only natural flavors). In that regard, Plaintiff is an average consumer who is not sophisticated in the chemistry, manufacturing, and formulation of supplement products, such as the Products. Neither Plaintiff, nor reasonable consumers, have the requisite knowledge to accurately differentiate between ingredients that are “natural flavor” or not. Accordingly, Plaintiff is at risk of reasonably, but incorrectly, assuming that Defendants fixed the formulation of the Products such that Plaintiff may buy it again, believing it to no longer be falsely advertised. Plaintiff is, therefore, currently and in the future deprived of the ability to rely on the Natural Flavor Representation. Based on information and belief, the labeling of the Products purchased by Plaintiff is typical of the labeling of the Products purchased by members of the class.

12. Defendant. Defendant Mondelēz International, Inc. is an Illinois corporation that maintains its principal place of business at 905 West Fulton Market, Suite 200 Chicago, IL 60607. Defendant Intercontinental Great Brands LLC is a limited liability company that maintains its principal place of business at 100 Deforest Avenue East Hanover, NJ 07936. At all times during the class period, Defendant was the manufacturer, distributor, marketer, and seller of the Products. Defendant directly and through its agents, has substantial contacts with and receives substantial benefits and income from and through the State of California.

13. The true names and capacities, whether individual, corporate, associate, or otherwise of certain manufacturers, distributors, and/or their alter egos sued herein as DOES 1 through 20 inclusive are presently unknown to Plaintiff who therefore sues these individuals and/or entities by fictitious names. Plaintiff will seek leave of this Court to amend the Complaint to show their true names and capacities when the same have been ascertained. Plaintiff is informed and believes and based thereon alleges that DOES 1 through 20 were authorized to do and did business in Los Angeles County. Plaintiff is further informed and believe and based thereon allege that DOES 1 through 20 were and/or are, in some manner or way, responsible for and liable to Plaintiff for the events, happenings, and consequences hereinafter set forth below.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

14. This Court has jurisdiction over all causes of action asserted herein pursuant to the California Constitution, Article VI, § 10, because this case is a cause not given by statute to other trial courts.

15. Plaintiff has standing to bring this action pursuant to Business & Professions Code § 17200, et seq.

16. Venue is proper in this Court because the Plaintiff purchased the Products in Los Angeles County. Defendants receive substantial compensation from sales in Los Angeles County, and Defendants made numerous misrepresentations which had a substantial effect in Los Angeles County, including, but not limited to, label, point of purchase displays, and internet advertisements.

17. Upon information and belief, said misrepresentations originated and/or emanated from the State of California.

18. Defendants and other out-of-state participants can be brought before this Court pursuant to the provisions of Code of Civil Procedure § 395.5.

19. Defendants are subject to personal jurisdiction in California based upon sufficient minimum contacts which exist between Defendants and California. Defendants are authorized to do and are doing business in Los Angeles, California.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

A. Citric Acid

a. Citric Acid as a Flavoring Agent

20. Defendants falsely, deceptively, and misleadingly market the Products as having “natural flavor with other natural flavor” despite containing citric acid, which is utilized in food products as a flavorant, providing a tart taste to food, supplements and beverages.(see Figure 1).^{2,3}

² Iliana E. Sweis and Brian C. Cressey, Potential role of the common food additive manufactured citric acid in eliciting significant inflammatory reactions contributing to serious disease states: A series of four case reports, 5 Toxicology Reports 808-812 (Aug. 9, 2018).

³ Yadav Poonam, et al., Organic Acids: microbial sources, production, and applications, Functional Foods and Nutraceuticals in Metabolic and Non-Communicable Diseases (2022),

21. The USDA identifies flavoring as a recognized functional use of citric acid.⁴

22. Citric acid acts as a flavoring agent in the Products regardless of the subjective purpose or intent for why Defendant added citric acid to the Products because it inherently imparts acidity and thus modifies the flavor profile of the final product — i.e. it is, by its chemical nature and recognized use, a flavoring or acidulent additive.

using a type of black mold called Aspergillus niger.⁷ Chemical solvents such as n-octyl alcohol and synthetic isoparaffinic petroleum hydrocarbons are used to extract the citric acid that Defendants use in the Products from aspergillus niger fermentation liquor. See 21 C.F.R § 173.280. The citric acid that Defendants use in the Products is produced through chemical solvent extraction and contains residues of those chemical solvents.

24. An article published in the Toxicology Reports Journal explains that citric acid produced through aspergillus niger fermentation is artificial: Citric acid naturally exists in fruits and vegetables. However, it is not the naturally occurring citric acid, but the manufactured citric acid (MCA) that is used extensively as a food additive. Approximately 99% of the world’s production of MCA is carried out using the fungus Aspergillus niger since 1919. Aspergillus niger is a known allergen.⁸ Because extracting citric acid directly from natural sources is economically impractical at commercial scale, manufacturers overwhelmingly rely on this industrial fermentation process, resulting in the widespread use of manufactured citric acid.

25. The Food and Drug Administration (“FDA”) has also sent warning letters to companies stating that certain products labeled as “natural” are misbranded because they contain artificial citric acid as an ingredient. For example, on August 29, 2001, the FDA sent Hirzel Canning Company (“Hirzel”) a warning letter regarding its canned tomato products. With respect to Hirzel’s Chopped Tomatoes Onions & Garlic and Chopped Mexican Tomatoes & Jalapenos, the FDA stated that these products could not bear the “All Natural” claim on the label because the products contained a synthetic ingredient, citric acid.⁹

26. Similarly, on August 16, 2001, the FDA sent Oak Tree Dairy Farm, Inc. (“Oak Tree”) a warning letter regarding its “Oaktree Real Brewed Iced Tea,” “Oaktree Fruit Punch,” and “Oaktree All Natural Lemonade” products. With respect to Oak Tree’s “Oaktree Real Brewed

1 Iced Tea,” the FDA stated that this product could not bear the “100% Natural” and “All Natural”
2 claims on the label because the product contained a synthetic ingredient, citric acid.

3 27. Below are images of the chemical process used to create citric acid for use in food –
4 a process that is visibly artificial:

25 28. Consumption of manufactured citric acid has been associated with adverse health
26 events like joint pain with swelling and stiffness, muscular and stomach pain, as well as shortness 27 of breath.¹⁰ The Toxicology Reports Journal article explains that “the potential presence of 28

¹⁰ Id.

1 impurities or fragments from the Aspergillus niger in [manufactured citric acid] is a significant
2 difference that may trigger deleterious effects when ingested.”¹¹

3 29. Several courts—including the Ninth Circuit—have found it plausible that citric acid
4 produced from Aspergillus niger fermentation is not natural and may be considered an artificial
5 flavor. See, e.g., Brazil v. Dole Packaged Foods, LLC, 660 F. App'x 531, 533 (9th Cir. 2016)
6 (reversing a grant of summary judgment and holding that evidence could “allow a trier of fact to 7 find that the synthetic citric and ascorbic acids in Dole's products were not ‘natural.’”); Mason v.
8 Reed's Inc., 515 F. Supp. 3d 135, 143 (S.D.N.Y. 2021) (noting that FDA warning letters “suggest 9 that citric acid, as produced by Aspergillus Niger, makes an ‘All-Natural’ label misleading.”);
10 Gabriele v. ConAgra Foods, Inc., 2015 WL 3904386, at *4 (W.D. Ark. June 25, 2015) (accepting 11 as true the plaintiff’s allegations “that the products contain artificially derived citric acid or calcium 12 chloride, in contravention of federal regulations.”).

13 30. The Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals, emphasizing the warning letters described above, 14 has issued a pertinent decision as to whether citric acid can be considered an artificial flavor. In 15 Brazil v. Dole Packaged Foods, LLC, 660 Fed. Appx. 531 (2016) the Ninth Circuit reversed a 16 summary judgment order in favor of a defendant holding there was a genuine dispute as to whether 17 citric acid is an artificial ingredient and whether the defendant’s “All Natural Fruit” label was likely 18 to deceive a reasonable consumer. The Ninth Circuit stated: Brazil cited more recent FDA warning
19 letters to food sellers. These sellers had described their products as ‘100% Natural’ or ‘All Natural,’
20 and the FDA accused those descriptions of being deceptive because the products in question
21 included synthetic citric acid, among other substances. Taken together, this evidence could allow a
22 trier of fact to conclude that Dole's description of its products as ‘All Natural Fruit’ is misleading to 23 a reasonable consumer. The evidence here—including the conflicting testimony of expert witnesses
24 and Dole employees—could also allow a trier of fact to find that the synthetic citric and ascorbic
25 acids in Dole’s products were not ‘natural.’ Summary judgment was therefore granted in error.

B. Defendants Mislead Plaintiff and Reasonable Consumers, Who Relied on the Material and False Advertising Claims to their Detriment

31. Materiality. The Natural Flavor Representation is material to reasonable consumers, including Plaintiff, in deciding to buy the Products. Specifically, the composition of the Products containing “natural flavor with other natural flavor”—is important to consumers and motivates them to buy the Products.

32. Reliance. The Class, including Plaintiff, reasonably relied on the Natural Flavor Representation in deciding to purchase the Products.

33. Consumers Lack Knowledge of Falsity. Consumers, including Plaintiff, do not know, and have no reason to know, at the time of purchase, that the Products’ Natural Flavor Representation is false, misleading, deceptive, and unlawful. That is because consumers, including Plaintiff, do not work for Defendants and therefore have no personal knowledge of the actual ingredients used to make the Products or how those ingredients are made, including whether artificial flavors are included. Additionally, average consumers do not have the specialized knowledge of a chemist or product-developer. Thus, reasonable consumers, like Plaintiff, cannot discern from the Products’ ingredient disclosures whether certain ingredients, are artificial flavors. Furthermore, reasonable consumers, like Plaintiff, do not ordinarily review information on the back or side panels of a consumer product’s packaging, like the Products’ packaging, particularly dense, fine-print ingredient disclosures, or review such information on websites. Indeed, studies show that only approximately 7.7% to 11.6% of people even look at the side or back labels of consumer goods, such as ingredient lists, before they buy it.¹²

¹² Grunert, Klaus, et. al, Nutrition knowledge, and use and understanding of nutrition information on food labels among consumers in the UK, 55 Appetite 177, at 179-181 (2010) available at <https://reader.elsevier.com/reader/sd/pii/S0195666310003661?token=95E4146C1BB7D7A7C9A487F22F0B445BD44499550086E04870765EBE116ED32DBFE3795E60B69C75831563CD1BC6655A&originRegion=us-east-1&originCreation=20220720162546> (consumer purchasing behavior study using in-store observation and interview data collection methodology to realistically estimate the degree consumers use nutritional information (found on side/back panels of food product labels and packaging), finding: (1) only 11.6% of respondents, who looked at a product and placed it in their shopping cart, were actually observed looking at the side/back panels of its packaging or labels (panels other than the front panel) before placing it in the cart; (2) of those who looked at the side/back panels, only 31.8% looked at it the product “in detail” (i.e., 3.7% of respondents who looked at the product, looked at side/back panels in detail)); and (3) the respondents self-reported frequency of reviewing side/back panels (for nutritional information) is overreported by 50% when the in-store interview data and observational data are compared); Grunert, Klaus, et. al, Use

34. The average consumer spends generally not more than 13 seconds to make an in-store purchasing decision.¹³ That decision is heavily based upon the product's front labeling because consumers do not have time to review and read every portion of the label and inspect in detail the rear label which depicts in small print the ingredients.

35. Defendants' Knowledge. Defendants knew, or should have known, that the Natural Flavor Representation is false, misleading, deceptive, and unlawful, at the time that Defendants manufactured, marketed, advertised, labeled, and sold the Products using the Natural Flavor Representation to Plaintiff and the Class. Defendants intentionally and deliberately used Natural Flavor Representation, alongside its massive marketing campaign and brand strategy, to cause Plaintiff and similarly situated consumers to buy the Products believing that the Natural Flavor Representation is true.

a. Knowledge of Falsity. Defendants marketed the Products with the Natural Flavor Representation, but Defendants opted to formulate and manufacture them in a manner that does not conform to this representation. Specifically, Defendants advertised and labeled the Products with the Natural Flavor Representation, but, instead of using only natural flavor ingredients, Defendants chose to make the Products with citric acid, a well-documented artificial flavoring ingredient.

b. Knowledge of Reasonable Consumers' Perception. Defendants knew, or should have known, that the Natural Flavor Representation would lead reasonable consumers into believing that the Products' flavors were natural—i.e., the and understanding of nutrition information on food labels in six European countries, 18(3) Journal of Public Health 261, 261, 263, 266 (2010), available at <https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pmc/articles/PMC2967247/> (last accessed July 20, 2022) (consumer purchasing behavior study using in-store observation and interview data collection methodology to evaluate whether people look at food labels before buying them, where they looked, and how long they looked, finding: (1) respondents spent, on average, approximately 35 seconds, per product, on products they bought; and (2) 62.6% of respondents looked at the front packaging, and only 7.7% looked elsewhere (side/back panels) on the packaging, for products they bought); Benn, Yael, et al., What information do consumers consider and how do they look for it, when shopping for groceries online, 89 Appetite 265, 265, 270 (2015), available at <https://www.sciencedirect.com/science/article/pii/S0195666315000422#bib0060> (last accessed December 31, 2025) (consumer purchasing behavior study using online eye-movement tracking and recordation, finding: (1) once on the product webpages, respondents tend to look at the pictures of products, rather than examine detailed product information; and (2) by comparison to pictures of products where 13.83-19.07% of respondents fixated, far less fixated on subsidiary information: 4.17% of respondents looked at nutrition information, 3.30% ingredients, 2.97% allergy information, and 0.09% recycling information for example).

Products do not contain artificial flavors. Not only have Defendants labeled the Products with the Natural Flavor Representation and executed a long-standing brand strategy and advertising campaign to identify the Products with the Natural Flavor Representation, but Defendants also have an obligation under section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act, codified at 15 U.S.C. §§ 45, to evaluate its marketing claims from the perspective of the reasonable consumer. That means Defendants were statutorily obligated to consider whether the Natural Flavor Representation, be it in isolation or conjunction with its marketing campaign, would mislead reasonable consumers into believing that the Products were made of only natural flavoring ingredients. Thus, Defendants either knew the Natural Flavor Representation was misleading before they marketed the Products to the Class, including Plaintiff, or Defendants would have known that it was deceptive had Defendants complied with its statutory obligations.

- c. Knowledge of Materiality. Defendants knew or should have known that the Natural Flavor Representation is material to consumers. First, manufacturers and marketers, like Defendants, generally reserve the front primary display panel of labels on consumer products for the most important and persuasive information, which they believe will motivate consumers to buy the products. Here, the conspicuousness of the Natural Flavor Representation on the Products' labels demonstrate Defendants' awareness of its importance to consumers and Defendants' understanding that consumers prefer and are motivated to buy products that conform to the Natural Flavor Representation. Second, manufacturers and marketers repeat marketing claims to emphasize and characterize a brand or product line, shaping the consumers' expectations, because they believe those repeated messages will drive consumers to buy the Products. Here, the constant, unwavering use of the Natural Flavor Representation on the Products, advertisements, and throughout Defendants' marketing campaign, evidence Defendants' awareness that the falsely advertised Product-attribute is important to consumers. It also evidences Defendants' intent to convince consumers that the Products conform to the Natural Flavor Representation and, ultimately, drive sales.
- d. Defendants Continued Deception, Despite Their Knowledge. Defendants, as the manufacturers and marketers of the Products, had exclusive control over the Natural Flavor Representation's inclusion on the Products' labels, and advertisements—i.e., Defendants readily and easily could have stopped using the Natural Flavor Representation to sell the Products. However, despite Defendants' knowledge of the Natural Flavor Representation's falsity, and Defendants' knowledge that consumers reasonably rely on the Natural Flavor Representation in deciding to buy the Products, Defendants deliberately chose to market the Products with the Natural Flavor Representation thereby misleading consumers into buying or otherwise overpaying for the Products. Thus, Defendants knew, or should have known, at all relevant times, that the Natural Flavor Representation misleads reasonable consumers, such as Plaintiff, into buying the Products to attain the product-attributes that Defendants falsely advertised and warranted. Indeed, notwithstanding Plaintiff's demand to Defendants to stop misleading consumers with the Natural Flavor Representation, Defendants have continued to market the Products using the Natural Flavor Representation.

36. By letter dated January 30, 2026, Plaintiff advised Defendants of their false and misleading claims pursuant to California Civil Code Section 1782, subdivision (a) regarding Defendants' use of citric acid – an artificial flavoring ingredient. Plaintiff has provided Defendants with notice of their violations of the CLRA pursuant to Civil Code § 1782(a).

C. The Products Are Substantially Similar

37. As described supra, Plaintiff purchased the Halls Defense Assorted Citrus Vitamin C Drops (the "Purchased Product"). The additional unpurchased products are substantially similar to the Purchased Product.

- a. Defendants. All Products are manufactured, sold, marketed, advertised, labeled, and packaged by the Defendants.
- b. Brand. All Products are sold under the Halls brand name.
- c. Marketing Demographics. All Products are marketed directly to consumers for personal use.
- d. Purpose. All Products are intended for the primary purpose of consumption.
- e. False Advertising Claims. All Products contain the same Natural Flavor Representation on the Products' labeling and packaging. In addition, all Products prominently display the Natural Flavor Representation on the front label in order to focus the consumer's attention on the Natural Flavor Representation.
- f. Key Ingredients. All Products contain citric acid, an artificial flavoring ingredient.
- g. Misleading Effect. The misleading effect of the Natural Flavor Representation on consumers are the same for all Products—consumers are tricked into buying or otherwise over-paying a premium for Products that are composed of no exclusively natural flavors without significant chemical modification, but they receive Products that, contrary to the Products' labels, also contain citric acid, an artificial flavoring ingredient.

D. No Adequate Remedy at Law

38. No Adequate Remedy at Law. Plaintiff and members of the Class are entitled to equitable relief as no adequate remedy at law exists.

- a. Broader Statutes of Limitations. The statutes of limitations for the causes of action pled herein vary. The limitations period is four years for claims brought under the UCL, which is one year longer than the statutes of limitations under the FAL and CLRA. In addition, the statutes of limitations vary for certain states' laws for breach of warranty and unjust enrichment/restitution, between approximately 2 and 6 years. Thus, California Subclass members who purchased the Products more than 3 years prior to the filing of the complaint will be barred from recovery if equitable relief were not permitted under the UCL. Similarly, Nationwide Class members who purchased the Products prior to the furthest reach-back under the statute of limitations for breach of warranty, will be barred from recovery if equitable relief were not permitted for restitution/unjust enrichment.

b. Broader Scope of Conduct. In addition, the scope of actionable misconduct under the unfair prong of the UCL is broader than the other causes of action asserted herein. It includes, for example, Defendants' overall unfair marketing scheme to promote and brand the Products with the Natural Flavor Representation, across a multitude of media platforms, including the Products' labels, over a long period of time, in order to gain an unfair advantage over competitor products and to take advantage of consumers' desire for products that comport with the Natural Flavor Representation. The UCL also creates a cause of action for violations of law (such as statutory or regulatory requirements and court orders related to similar representation and omission made on the type of products at issue). Thus, Plaintiff and Class members may be entitled to restitution under the UCL, while not entitled to damages under other causes of action asserted herein (e.g., the FAL requires actual or constructive knowledge of the falsity; the CLRA is limited to certain types of plaintiff (an individual who seeks or acquires, by purchase or lease, any goods or services for personal, family, or household purposes) and other statutorily enumerated conduct). Similarly, unjust enrichment/restitution is broader than breach of warranty. For example, in some states, breach of warranty may require privity of contract or pre-lawsuit notice, which are not typically required to establish unjust enrichment/restitution. Thus, Plaintiff and Class members may be entitled to recover under unjust enrichment/restitution, while not entitled to damages under breach of warranty, because they purchased the products from third-party retailers or did not provide adequate notice of a breach prior to the commencement of this action.

c. Injunctive Relief to Cease Misconduct and Dispel Misperception. Injunctive relief is appropriate on behalf of Plaintiff and members of the Class because Defendants continue to misrepresent the Products with the Natural Flavor Representation. Injunctive relief is necessary to prevent Defendants from continuing to engage in the unfair, fraudulent, and/or unlawful conduct described herein and to prevent future harm—none of which can be achieved through available legal remedies (such as monetary damages to compensate past harm). Further, injunctive relief, in the form of affirmative disclosures is necessary to dispel the public misperception about the Products that has resulted from years of Defendants' unfair, fraudulent, and unlawful marketing efforts. Such disclosures would include, but are not limited to, publicly disseminated statements that the Products' Natural Flavor Representation is not true and providing accurate information about the Products' true nature; and/or requiring prominent qualifications and/or disclaimers on the Products' front label concerning the Products' true nature. An injunction requiring affirmative disclosures to dispel the public's misperception and prevent the ongoing deception and repeat purchases based thereon, is also not available through a legal remedy (such as monetary damages). In addition, Plaintiff is currently unable to accurately quantify the damages caused by Defendants' future harm, because discovery and Plaintiff's investigation have not yet completed, rendering injunctive relief all the more necessary. For example, because the court has not yet certified any class, the following remains unknown: the scope of the class, the identities of its members, their respective purchasing practices, prices of past/future Products' sales, and quantities of past/future Products' sales.

- d. Public Injunction. Further, because a "public injunction" is available under the UCL, damages will not adequately "benefit the general public" in a manner equivalent to an injunction.
- e. California vs. Nationwide Class Claims. Violation of the UCL, FAL, and CLRA are claims asserted on behalf of Plaintiff and the California Subclass against Defendant, while breach of warranty and unjust enrichment/restitution are asserted on behalf of Plaintiff and the Nationwide Class. Dismissal of farther-reaching claims, such as restitution, would bar recovery for non-California members of the Class. In other words, legal remedies available or adequate under the California-specific causes of action (such as the UCL, FAL, and CLRA) have no impact on this Court's jurisdiction to award equitable relief under the remaining causes of action asserted on behalf of non-California putative class members.

CLASS ALLEGATIONS

39. Class Definition. Plaintiff brings this action as a class action pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 23(b)(2) and 23(b)(3) on behalf of himself and all others similarly situated, and as members of the Classes defined as follows:

All persons or entities that, within four years prior to the filing of this Complaint through present, purchased the Products in the United States, displaying the Natural Flavor Representation on the Products' labels, for purposes other than resale ("Nationwide Class"); and

All persons or entities that, within four years prior to the filing of this Complaint through present, purchased the Products in California, displaying the Natural Flavor Representation on the Products' labels, for purposes other than resale ("California Subclass")

40. Class Definition Exclusions. Excluded from the Class are: (i) Defendants, their assigns, successors, and legal representatives; (ii) any entities in which Defendants have controlling interests; (iii) federal, state, and/or local governments, including, but not limited to, their departments, agencies, divisions, bureaus, boards, sections, groups, counsels, and/or subdivisions;

1 and (iv) any judicial officer presiding over this matter and person within the third degree of 2 consanguinity to such judicial officer.

3 41. Reservation of Rights to Amend the Class Definition. Plaintiff reserves the right to 4 amend or otherwise alter the class definitions presented to the Court at the appropriate time in 5 response to facts learned through discovery, legal arguments advanced by Defendants, or otherwise.

6 42. Numerosity: Members of the Class are so numerous that joinder of all members is 7 impracticable. Upon information and belief, the Nationwide Class consists of tens of thousands of 8 purchasers (if not more) dispersed throughout the United States, and the California Subclass
9 likewise consists of thousands of purchasers (if not more) dispersed throughout the State of 10 California. Accordingly, it would be impracticable to join all members of the Class before the Court.

11 43. Common Questions Predominate: There are numerous and substantial questions of 12 law or fact common to all members of the Class that predominate over any individual issues.

13 Included within the common questions of law or fact are:

- 14 a. Whether Defendants engaged in unlawful, unfair or deceptive business practices by 15 advertising and selling the Products;
- 16 b. Whether Defendants' conduct of advertising and selling the Products as being with 17 natural flavor with other natural flavor, creating the reasonable assumption that the 18 Products do not contain any artificial flavoring ingredients, when the Products contain 19 citric acid, constitutes an unfair method of competition, or unfair or deceptive act or 20 practice, in violation of Civil Code section 1750, et seq.
- 21 c. Whether Defendants used deceptive representation in connection with the sale of the 22 Products in violation of Civil Code section 1750, et seq.;
- 23 d. Whether Defendants represented that the Products have characteristics or quantities 24 that they do not have in violation of Civil Code section 1750, et seq.;
- 25 e. Whether Defendants advertised the Products with intent not to sell it as advertised in 26 violation of Civil Code section 1750, et seq.;
- 27 f. Whether Defendants' labeling and advertising of the Products are untrue or 28 misleading in violation of Business and Professions Code section 17500, et seq.;
- g. Whether Defendants knew or by the exercise of reasonable care should have known its labeling and advertising was and is untrue or misleading in violation of Business and Professions Code section 17500, et seq.;
- h. Whether Defendants' conduct is an unfair business practice within the meaning of Business and Professions Code section 17200, et seq.

- i. Whether Defendants' conduct is a fraudulent business practice within the meaning of Business and Professions Code section 17200, et seq.
- j. Whether Defendants' conduct is an unlawful business practice within the meaning of Business and Professions Code section 17200, et seq.;
- k. Whether Plaintiff and the Class paid more money for the Products than they actually received;
- l. How much more money Plaintiff and the Class paid for the Products than they actually received;
- m. Whether Defendants' conduct constitutes breach of warranty;
- n. Whether Plaintiff and the Class are entitled to injunctive relief; and
- o. Whether Defendants were unjustly enriched by its unlawful conduct.

44. Typicality: Plaintiff's claims are typical of the claims of the Class Members he seeks to represent because Plaintiff, like the Class Members, purchased Defendants' misleading and deceptive Products. Defendants' unlawful, unfair and/or fraudulent actions concern the same business practices described herein irrespective of where they occurred or were experienced. Plaintiff and the Class sustained similar injuries arising out of Defendants' conduct. Plaintiff's and Class Members' claims arise from the same practices and course of conduct and are based on the same legal theories.

45. Adequacy: Plaintiff is an adequate representative of the Class he seeks to represent because his interests do not conflict with the interests of the Class Members Plaintiff seeks to represent. Plaintiff will fairly and adequately protect Class Members' interests and has retained counsel experienced and competent in the prosecution of complex class actions, including complex questions that arise in consumer protection litigation.

46. Superiority and Substantial Benefit: A class action is superior to other methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of this controversy, since individual joinder of all members of the Class is impracticable and no other group method of adjudication of all claims asserted herein is more efficient and manageable for at least the following reasons:

- a. The claims presented in this case predominate over any questions of law or fact, if any exist at all, affecting any individual member of the Class;

- 1 b. Absent a Class, the members of the Class will continue to suffer damage and 2 Defendants' unlawful conduct will continue without remedy while Defendants profit
3 from and enjoy its ill-gotten gains;
4 c. Given the size of individual Class Members' claims, few, if any, Class Members could 5 afford to or would seek legal redress individually for the wrongs Defendants
6 committed against them, and absent Class Members have no substantial interest in 7 individually controlling the prosecution of individual actions;
8 d. When the liability of Defendants has been adjudicated, claims of all members of the 9 Class can be administered efficiently and/or determined uniformly by the Court; and 10 e. This action presents no difficulty that would impede its management by the Court as 11 a class action, which is the best available means by which Plaintiff and Class Members
12 can seek redress for the harm caused to them by Defendant.

13 47. Inconsistent Rulings. Because Plaintiff seeks relief for all members of the Class, the 14 prosecution of separate actions by individual members would create a risk of inconsistent or varying 15 adjudications with respect to individual members of the Class, which would establish incompatible
16 standards of conduct for Defendants.

17 48. Injunctive/Equitable Relief. The prerequisites to maintaining a class action for 18 injunctive or equitable relief pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(2) are met as Defendants have acted 19 or refused to act on grounds generally applicable to the Class, thereby making appropriate final 20 injunctive or equitable relief with respect to the Class as a whole.

21 49. Manageability. Plaintiff and Plaintiff's counsel are unaware of any difficulties that 22 are likely to be encountered in the management of this action that would preclude its maintenance
23 as a class action.

24 COUNT ONE

25 Violation of California Unfair Competition Law

26 Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 17200, et seq.

27 (On Behalf of the California Subclass)

28 50. Incorporation by Reference. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates by reference all allegations contained in this complaint, as though fully set forth herein.

1 51. California Subclass. This cause of action is brought pursuant to Business and 2 Professions Code Section 17200, et seq., on behalf of Plaintiff and a California Subclass who 3 purchased the Products within the applicable statute of limitations.

4 52. The UCL. California Business & Professions Code, sections 17200, et seq. (the 5 “UCL”) prohibits unfair competition and provides, in pertinent part, that “unfair competition shall 6 mean and include unlawful, unfair or fraudulent business practices and unfair, deceptive, untrue or 7 misleading advertising.”

8 53. False Advertising Claims. Defendants, in their labeling and advertising of the 9 Products, made false and misleading statements and fraudulent omissions regarding the quality and 10 characteristics of the Products—specifically, the Natural Flavor Representation (i.e., that the 11 Products contain no artificial flavors) — despite the fact the Products contain citric acid, a well-
12 documented artificial flavoring ingredient. Such claim and omission appear on the front labels of 13 the Products, which are sold at retail stores, point-of-purchase displays, and online.

14 54. Defendants’ Deliberately False and Fraudulent Marketing Scheme. Defendants
15 do not have any reasonable basis for the claims about the Products made in Defendants’ advertising
16 and on Defendants’ labeling because the Products contain citric acid, a well-documented artificial 17 flavoring agent. Defendants knew and know that the Products contain citric acid, yet Defendants 18 intentionally advertise and market the Products to cause reasonable consumers to believe that the 19 Products have only natural flavors.

20 55. False Advertising Claims Cause Purchase of Products. Defendants’ labeling and 21 advertising of the Products led to, and continue to lead to, reasonable consumers, including Plaintiff,
22 believing that the Products are free from artificial flavoring ingredients, to the exclusion of artificial 23 flavors.

24 56. Injury In Fact. Plaintiff and the California Subclass have suffered injury in fact and 25 have lost money or property as a result of and in reliance upon Defendants’ Natural Flavor
26 Representation—namely Plaintiff and the California Subclass lost the purchase price for the 27 Products they bought from Defendants.
28

1 57. Conduct Violates the UCL. Defendants’ conduct, as alleged herein, constitutes
2 unfair, unlawful, and fraudulent business practices pursuant to the UCL. The UCL prohibits unfair
3 competition and provides, in pertinent part, that “unfair competition shall mean and include
4 unlawful, unfair or fraudulent business practices and unfair, deceptive, untrue or misleading
5 advertising.” Cal. Bus & Prof. Code § 17200. In addition, Defendants’ use of various forms of 6 advertising media to advertise, call attention to, or give publicity to the sale of goods or merchandise
7 that are not as represented in any manner constitutes unfair competition, unfair, deceptive, untrue
8 or misleading advertising, and an unlawful business practice within the meaning of Business and 9 Professions Code Sections 17200 and 17531, which advertisements have deceived and are likely to 10 deceive the consuming public, in violation of Business and Professions Code Section 17200.

11 58. No Reasonably Available Alternatives/Legitimate Business Interests. Defendants
12 failed to avail themselves of reasonably available, lawful alternatives to further its legitimate 13 business interests.

14 59. Business Practice. All of the conduct alleged herein occurred and continues to occur
15 in Defendants’ business. Defendants’ wrongful conduct is part of a pattern, practice and/or 16 generalized course of conduct, which will continue on a daily basis until Defendants voluntarily
17 alter its conduct or Defendants are otherwise ordered to do so.

18 60. Injunction. Pursuant to Business and Professions Code Sections 17203 and 17535,
19 Plaintiff and the members of the California Subclass seek an order of this Court enjoining
20 Defendants from continuing to engage, use, or employ their practice of labeling and advertising the 21 sale and use of the Products. Likewise, Plaintiff and the members of the California Subclass seek 22 an order requiring Defendants to disclose such misrepresentation, and to preclude Defendants’
23 failure to disclose the existence and significance of said misrepresentation.

24 61. Causation/Damages. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants’ misconduct in 25 violation of the UCL, Plaintiff and members of the California Subclass were harmed in the amount
26 of the purchase price they paid for the Products. Further, Plaintiff and members of the California
27 Subclass have suffered and continue to suffer economic losses and other damages including, but not 28 limited to, the amounts paid for the Products, and any interest that would have accrued on those monies, in an amount to be proven at trial. Accordingly, Plaintiff seeks a monetary award for violation of the UCL in damages, restitution, and/or disgorgement of ill-gotten gains to compensate Plaintiff and the California Subclass for said monies, as well as injunctive relief to enjoin Defendants' misconduct to prevent ongoing and future harm that will result.

62. Punitive Damages. Plaintiff seeks punitive damages pursuant to this cause of action for violation of the UCL on behalf of Plaintiff and the California Subclass. Defendants' unfair, fraudulent, and unlawful conduct described herein constitutes malicious, oppressive, and/or fraudulent conduct warranting an award of punitive damages as permitted by law. Defendants' misconduct is malicious as Defendants acted with the intent to cause Plaintiff and consumers to pay for Products that they were not, in fact, receiving. Defendants willfully and knowingly disregarded the rights of Plaintiff and consumers as Defendants were, at all times, aware of the probable dangerous consequences of their conduct and deliberately failed to avoid misleading consumers, including Plaintiff. Defendants' misconduct is oppressive as, at all relevant times, said conduct was so vile, base, and/or contemptible that reasonable people would look down upon it and/or otherwise would despise such corporate misconduct. Said misconduct subjected Plaintiff and consumers to cruel and unjust hardship in knowing disregard of their rights. Defendants' misconduct is fraudulent as Defendants intentionally misrepresented and/or concealed material facts with the intent to deceive Plaintiff and consumers. The wrongful conduct constituting malice, oppression, and/or fraud was committed, authorized, adopted, approved, and/or ratified by officers, directors, and/or managing agents of Defendants.

"Unfair" Prong

63. Unfair Standard. Under the UCL, a challenged activity is "unfair" when "any injury it causes outweighs any benefits provided to consumers and the injury is one that the consumers themselves could not reasonably avoid." Camacho v. Auto Club of Southern California, 142 Cal. App. 4th 1394, 1403 (2006).

64. Injury. Defendants' actions of mislabeling the Products with the Natural Flavor Representation do not confer any benefit to consumers; rather, doing so causes injuries to consumers, who do not receive products commensurate with their reasonable expectations, overpay

1 for the Products, and receive products of lesser standards than what they reasonably expected to
2 receive. Consumers cannot avoid any of the injuries caused by Defendants’ deceptive labeling
3 and/or advertising of the Products. Accordingly, the injuries caused by Defendants’ deceptive
4 labeling and advertising outweigh any benefits.

5 65. Balancing Test. Some courts conduct a balancing test to decide if a challenged
6 activity amounts to unfair conduct under California Business and Professions Code Section 17200.
7 They “weigh the utility of the Defendants’ conduct against the gravity of the harm to the alleged 8 victim.” Davis v. HSBC Bank Nevada, N.A., 691 F.3d 1152, 1169 (9th Cir. 2012).

9 66. No Utility. Here, Defendants’ conduct of labeling the Products as having “natural 10 flavor with other natural flavor”—when the Products contain citric acid, has no utility and 11 financially harms purchasers. Thus, the utility of Defendants’ conduct is vastly outweighed by the 12 gravity of harm.

13 67. Legislative Declared Policy. Some courts require that “unfairness must be tethered 14 to some legislative declared policy or proof of some actual or threatened impact on competition.”
15 Lozano v. AT&T Wireless Servs. Inc., 504 F. 3d 718, 735 (9th Cir. 2007).

16 68. Unfair Conduct. Defendants’ labeling and advertising of the Products, as alleged 17 herein, is false, deceptive, misleading, and unreasonable, and constitutes unfair conduct. Defendants 18 knew or should have known of their unfair conduct. Defendants’ misrepresentation constitutes an 19 unfair business practice within the meaning of California Business and Professions Code Section 20 17200.

21 69. Reasonably Available Alternatives. There existed reasonably available alternatives
22 to further Defendants’ legitimate business interests, other than the conduct described herein.
23 Defendants could have refrained from labeling the Products with the Natural Flavor Representation.

24 70. Defendants’ Wrongful Conduct. All of the conduct alleged herein occurs and 25 continues to occur in Defendants’ business. Defendants’ wrongful conduct is part of a pattern or 26 generalized course of conduct repeated on thousands of occasions daily.

71. Injunction. Pursuant to Business and Professions Code Sections 17203, Plaintiff and the California Subclass seek an order of this Court enjoining Defendants from continuing to engage, use, or employ their practices of labeling the Products with the Natural Flavor Representation.

72. Causation/Damages. Plaintiff and the California Subclass have suffered injury in fact and have lost money as a result of Defendants' unfair conduct. Plaintiff and the California Subclass paid an unwarranted premium for the Products. Specifically, Plaintiff and the California Subclass paid for Products that are supposedly free from artificial flavoring ingredients and any flavors that have been materially altered through chemical processing, but instead purchased Products that contain citric acid, a well-documented artificial flavoring agent. Plaintiff and the California Subclass would not have purchased the Products, or would have paid substantially less for the Products, if they had known that the Products' advertising and labeling were deceptive. Accordingly, Plaintiff seeks damages, restitution and/or disgorgement of ill-gotten gains pursuant to the UCL.

“Fraudulent” Prong

73. Fraud Standard. The UCL considers conduct fraudulent (and prohibits said conduct) if it is likely to deceive members of the public. Bank of the West v. Superior Court, 2 Cal. 4th 1254, 1267 (1992).

74. Fraudulent & Material Natural Flavor Representation. Defendants used the Natural Flavor Representation with the intent to sell the Products to consumers, including Plaintiff and the California Subclass. The Natural Flavor Representation is false, and Defendants knew or should have known of its falsity. The Natural Flavor Representation is likely to deceive consumers into purchasing the Products because it is material to the average, ordinary, and reasonable consumer.

75. Fraudulent Business Practice. As alleged herein, the misrepresentation by Defendants constitutes a fraudulent business practice in violation of California Business & Professions Code Section 17200.

76. Reasonable and Detrimental Reliance. Plaintiff and the California Subclass reasonably and detrimentally relied on the material and false Natural Flavor Representation to their detriment in that they purchased the Products.

1 83. Additional Violations. Defendants' conduct in making the false representation
2 described herein constitutes a knowing failure to adopt policies in accordance with and/or adherence
3 to applicable laws, as set forth herein, all of which are binding upon and burdensome to its 4 competitors. This conduct engenders an unfair competitive advantage for Defendants, thereby
5 constituting an unfair, fraudulent and/or unlawful business practice under California Business &
6 Professions Code sections 17200-17208. Additionally, Defendants' misrepresentation of material
7 facts, as set forth herein, violates California Civil Code sections 1572, 1573, 1709, 1710, 1711, and 8 1770, as well as the common law.

9 84. Unlawful Conduct. Defendants' labeling and advertising of the Products, as alleged 10 herein, are false, deceptive, misleading, and unreasonable, and constitute unlawful conduct.
11 Defendants knew or should have known of its unlawful conduct.

12 85. Reasonably Available Alternatives. Defendants had reasonably available
13 alternatives to further their legitimate business interests, other than the conduct described herein.
14 Defendants could have refrained from labeling the Products with the Natural Flavor Representation
15 and/or omitting the use of artificial flavoring ingredients or any flavors with significant chemical 16 modification within the Products.

17 86. Business Practice. All of the conduct alleged herein occurs and continues to occur in 18 Defendants' business. Defendants' wrongful conduct is part of a pattern or generalized course of 19 conduct.

20 87. Injunction. Pursuant to Business and Professions Code Section 17203, Plaintiff and 21 the California Subclass seek an order of this Court enjoining Defendants from continuing to engage,
22 use, or employ their practice of false and deceptive advertising of the Products.

23 88. Causation/Damages. Plaintiff and the California Subclass have suffered injury in fact
24 and have lost money as a result of Defendants' unfair conduct. Plaintiff and the California Subclass
25 paid an unwarranted premium for the Products. Specifically, Plaintiff and the California Subclass
26 paid for Products that were supposedly free from artificial flavors and any flavoring ingredients that 27 are subject to synthetic or intensive chemical processing, but instead purchased Products that 28 contain citric acid – an artificial flavoring ingredient. Plaintiff and the California Subclass would not have purchased the Products, or would have paid substantially less for the Products, if they had known that the Products' advertising and labeling were deceptive. Accordingly, Plaintiff seeks damages, restitution and/or disgorgement of ill-gotten gains pursuant to the UCL.

COUNT TWO

Violation of California False Advertising Law

Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 17500, et seq.

(On Behalf of the California Subclass)

89. Incorporation by reference. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates by reference all allegations contained in this complaint, as though fully set forth herein.

90. California Subclass. Plaintiff brings this claim individually and on behalf of the California Subclass who purchased the Products within the applicable statute of limitations.

91. FAL Standard. The False Advertising Law, codified at Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code section 17500, et seq., prohibits "unfair, deceptive, untrue or misleading advertising[.]"

92. False & Material Natural Flavor Representation Disseminated to Public. Defendants violated section 17500 when they advertised and marketed the Products through the unfair, deceptive, untrue, and misleading Natural Flavor Representation disseminated to the public through the Products' labeling, marketing, and advertising. This representation was false because the Products do not conform to it. The representation was material because it is likely to mislead a reasonable consumer into purchasing the Products.

93. Knowledge. In making and disseminating the representation alleged herein, Defendants knew or should have known that the representation was untrue or misleading, and acted in violation of § 17500.

94. Intent to Sell. Defendants' Natural Flavor Representation was specifically designed to induce reasonable consumers, like Plaintiff and the California Subclass, to purchase the Products.

95. Causation/Damages. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' misconduct in violation of the FAL, Plaintiff and members of the California Subclass were harmed in the amount of the purchase price they paid for the Products. Further, Plaintiff and members of the Class have suffered and continue to suffer economic losses and other damages including, but not limited to, the

1 amounts paid for the Products, and any interest that would have accrued on those monies, in an
2 amount to be proven at trial. Accordingly, Plaintiff seeks a monetary award for violation of the FAL
3 in damages, restitution, and/or disgorgement of ill-gotten gains to compensate Plaintiff and the 4 California Subclass for said monies, as well as injunctive relief to enjoin Defendants' misconduct
5 prevent ongoing and future harm that will result.

6 96. Punitive Damages. Defendants' unfair, fraudulent, and unlawful conduct described
7 herein constitutes malicious, oppressive, and/or fraudulent conduct warranting an award of punitive
8 damages as permitted by law. Defendants' misconduct is malicious as Defendants acted with the 9 intent to cause Plaintiff and consumers to pay for Products that they were not, in fact, receiving.
10 Defendants willfully and knowingly disregarded the rights of Plaintiff and consumers as Defendants
11 were aware of the probable dangerous consequences of its conduct and deliberately failed to avoid 12 misleading consumers, including Plaintiff. Defendants' misconduct is oppressive as, at all relevant
13 times, said conduct was so vile, base, and/or contemptible that reasonable people would look down
14 upon it and/or otherwise would despise such corporate misconduct. Said misconduct subjected 15 Plaintiff and consumers to cruel and unjust hardship in knowing disregard of their 16 rights. Defendants' misconduct is fraudulent as Defendants, at all relevant times, intentionally
17 misrepresented and/or concealed material facts with the intent to deceive Plaintiff and consumers.
18 The wrongful conduct constituting malice, oppression, and/or fraud was committed, authorized,
19 adopted, approved, and/or ratified by officers, directors, and/or managing agents of Defendants.

20 COUNT THREE

21 Violation of California Consumers Legal Remedies Act

22 Cal. Civ. Code §§ 1750, *et seq.

23 (On Behalf of the California Subclass)

24 97. Incorporation by Reference. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates by reference all
25 allegations contained in this complaint, as though fully set forth herein.

26 98. California Subclass. Plaintiff brings this claim individually and on behalf of the 27 California Subclass who purchased the Products within the applicable statute of limitations.
28

1 99. CLRA Standard. The CLRA provides that “unfair methods of competition and unfair
2 or deceptive acts or practices undertaken by any person in a transaction intended to result or which 3 results in the sale or lease of goods or services to any consumer are unlawful.

4 100. Goods/Services. The Products are each a “good,” as defined by the CLRA in 5 California Civil Code §1761(a).

6 101. Defendants. Defendants are each a “person,” as defined by the CLRA in California
7 Civil Code §1761(c).

8 102. Consumers. Plaintiff and members of the California Subclass are “consumers,” as 9 defined by the CLRA in California Civil Code §1761(d).

10 103. Transactions. The purchase of the Products by Plaintiff and members of the 11 California Subclass are “transactions” as defined by the CLRA under California Civil Code § 12 1761(e).

13 104. Violations of the CLRA. Defendants violated the following sections of the CLRA by 14 selling the Products to Plaintiff and the California Subclass through the false, misleading, deceptive, 15 and fraudulent Natural Flavor Representation.

- 16 a. Section 1770(a)(5) by representing that the Products have “characteristics, . . . uses 17 [or] benefits . . . which [they] do not have.”
18 b. Section 1770(a)(7) by representing that the Products “[are] of a particular standard, 19 quality, or grade . . . [when] [they are] of another.”
20 c. Section 1770(a)(9) by advertising the Products “with [the] intent not to sell [them] as 21 advertised.”

22 105. Knowledge. Defendants’ uniform and material representation regarding the Products
23 were likely to deceive, and Defendants knew or should have known that their representation was 24 untrue and misleading.

25 106. Malicious. Defendants’ conduct is malicious, fraudulent, and wanton in that 26 Defendants intentionally misled and withheld material information from consumers, including 27 Plaintiff, to increase the sale of the Products.
28

1 107. Plaintiff Could Not Have Avoided Injury. Plaintiff and members of the California
2 Subclass could not have reasonably avoided such injury. Plaintiff and members of the California
3 Subclass were unaware of the existence of the facts that Defendants suppressed and failed to 4 disclose, and Plaintiff and members of the California Subclass would not have purchased the 5 Products and/or would have purchased them on different terms had they known the truth.

6 108. Causation/Reliance/Materiality. Plaintiff and the California Subclass suffered harm
7 as a result of Defendants' violations of the CLRA because they relied on the Natural Flavor
8 Representation in deciding to purchase the Products. The Natural Flavor Representation was a
9 substantial factor. The Natural Flavor Representation was material because a reasonable consumer
10 would consider it important in deciding whether to purchase the Products.

11 109. Section 1782(d)—Prelitigation Demand/Notice. Pursuant to California Civil Code,
12 section 1782, more than thirty days prior to the filing of this complaint, on or around January 30,
13 2026, Plaintiff's counsel, acting on behalf all members of the Class, mailed a Demand Letter, via 14 U.S. certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed to Defendants Mondelēz International, Inc.
15 and Intercontinental Great Brands LLC at the following addresses

- 16 a. 100 Deforest Avenue East Hanover, NJ 07936
- 17 b. 905 West Fulton Market, Suite 200 Chicago, IL 60607
- 18 c. 1200 South Pine Island Road Plantation, FL 33324
- 19 d. 330 N Brand Blvd, Suite 700 Glendale, CA 91203

20 110. Causation/Damages. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' misconduct in 21 violation of the CLRA, Plaintiff and members of the California Subclass were harmed in the amount 22 of the purchase price they paid for the Products. Further, Plaintiff and members of the Class have 23 suffered and continue to suffer economic losses and other damages including, but not limited to, the
24 amounts paid for the Products, and any interest that would have accrued on those monies, in an
25 amount to be proven at trial. Accordingly, Plaintiff seeks a monetary award for violation of this Act
26 in the form of damages, restitution, disgorgement of ill-gotten gains to compensate Plaintiff and the 27 California Subclass for said monies.
28

111. Injunction. Given that Defendants' conduct violated California Civil Code section 1780, Plaintiff and members of the California Subclass are entitled to seek, and do hereby seek, injunctive relief to put an end to Defendants' violations of the CLRA and to dispel the public misperception generated, facilitated, and fostered by Defendants' false advertising campaign. Plaintiff has no adequate remedy at law. Without equitable relief, Defendants' unfair and deceptive practices will continue to harm Plaintiff and the California Subclass. Accordingly, Plaintiff seeks an injunction to enjoin Defendants from continuing to employ the unlawful methods, acts, and practices alleged herein pursuant to section 1780(a)(2), and otherwise requires Defendants to take corrective action necessary to dispel the public misperception engendered, fostered, and facilitated through Defendants' deceptive labeling of the Products with the Natural Flavor Representation.

112. Punitive Damages. Defendants' unfair, fraudulent, and unlawful conduct described herein constitutes malicious, oppressive, and/or fraudulent conduct warranting an award of punitive damages as permitted by law. Defendants' misconduct is malicious as Defendants acted with the intent to cause Plaintiff and consumers to pay for Products that they were not, in fact, receiving. Defendants willfully and knowingly disregarded the rights of Plaintiff and consumers as Defendants were, at all times, aware of the probable dangerous consequences of its conduct and deliberately failed to avoid misleading consumers, including Plaintiff. Defendants' misconduct is oppressive as, at all relevant times, said conduct was so vile, base, and/or contemptible that reasonable people would look down upon it and/or otherwise would despise such corporate misconduct. Said misconduct subjected Plaintiff and consumers to cruel and unjust hardship in knowing disregard of their rights. Defendants' misconduct is fraudulent as Defendants, at all relevant times, intentionally misrepresented and/or concealed material facts with the intent to deceive Plaintiff and consumers. The wrongful conduct constituting malice, oppression, and/or fraud was committed, authorized, adopted, approved, and/or ratified by officers, directors, and/or managing agents of Defendants. Accordingly, Plaintiff seeks an award of punitive damages against Defendants.

COUNT FOUR

Breach of Express Warranty

(Individually and On Behalf of the California Subclass)

113. Incorporation by Reference. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates by reference all allegations contained in this complaint, as though fully set forth herein.

114. Express Warranty. Defendants expressly warrant that the Products do not contain artificial flavors or any flavoring ingredients with significant chemical modification, as set forth above. Defendants' claims constitute an affirmation of fact, promise, and/or description of the goods that became part of the basis of the bargain and created an express warranty that the goods would conform to the stated promise. Plaintiff placed importance on Defendants' claims.

115. All conditions precedent to Defendants' liability under this contract have been performed by Plaintiff and the Class.

116. Defendants breached the terms of the contract, including the express warranties, with Plaintiff and the Class by not providing Products that conform to the advertising and label claims.

117. As a result of Defendants' breach of contract, Plaintiff and the Class have been damaged in the amount to be determined at trial.

COUNT FIVE

Unjust Enrichment/Restitution

(On Behalf of the Nationwide Class and California Subclass)

118. Incorporation by Reference. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates by reference all allegations contained in this complaint, as though fully set forth herein.

119. Nationwide Class & California Subclass. Plaintiff brings this claim individually and on behalf of the Class who purchased the Products within the applicable statute of limitations.

120. Plaintiff/Class Conferred a Benefit. By purchasing the Products, Plaintiff and members of the Class conferred a benefit on Defendants in the form of the purchase price of the Products.

121. Defendants' Knowledge of Conferred Benefit. Defendants had knowledge of such benefit and Defendants appreciated the benefit because, were consumers not to purchase the Products, Defendants would not generate revenue from the sales of the Products.

122. Defendants' Unjust Receipt Through Deception. Defendants' owing acceptance and retention of the benefit is inequitable and unjust because the benefit was obtained by Defendants' fraudulent, misleading, and deceptive representation and omission.

123. Causation/Damages. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' unjust enrichment, Plaintiff and members of the Class were harmed in the amount of the purchase price they paid for the Products. Further, Plaintiff and members of the Class have suffered and continue to suffer economic losses and other damages including, but not limited to, the amounts paid for the Products, and any interest that would have accrued on those monies, in an amount to be proven at trial. Accordingly, Plaintiff seeks a monetary award for unjust enrichment in damages, restitution, and/or disgorgement of ill-gotten gains to compensate Plaintiff and the Class for said monies, as well as injunctive relief to enjoin Defendants' conduct to prevent ongoing and future harm that will result.

124. Punitive Damages. Plaintiff seeks punitive damages pursuant to this cause of action for unjust enrichment on behalf of Plaintiff and the Class. Defendants' unfair, fraudulent, and unlawful conduct described herein constitutes malicious, oppressive, and/or fraudulent conduct warranting an award of punitive damages as permitted by law. Defendants' misconduct is malicious as Defendants acted with the intent to cause Plaintiff and consumers to pay for Products that they were not, in fact, receiving. Defendants willfully and knowingly disregarded the rights of Plaintiff and consumers as Defendants were aware of the probable dangerous consequences of its conduct and deliberately failed to avoid misleading consumers, including Plaintiff. Defendants misconduct is oppressive as, at all relevant times, said conduct was so vile, base, and/or contemptible that reasonable people would look down upon it and/or otherwise would despise such corporate misconduct. Said misconduct subjected Plaintiff and consumers to cruel and unjust hardship in knowing disregard of their rights. Defendants' misconduct is fraudulent as Defendants, at all relevant times, intentionally misrepresented and/or concealed material facts with the intent to

1 deceive Plaintiff and consumers. The wrongful conduct constituting malice, oppression, and/or 2 fraud was committed, authorized, adopted, approved, and/or ratified by officers, directors, and/or 3 managing agents of Defendants.

9 126. Nationwide Class & California Subclass. Plaintiff brings this claim individually and 10 on behalf of the Class who purchased the Products within the applicable statute of limitations.

11 127. Defendants have intentionally labeled and marketed the Products with the Natural 12 Flavor Representation. However, the Products contain citric acid. Defendants have misrepresented
13 the quality of ingredients contained in the Products.

14 128. Defendants' misrepresentations regarding the Products are material to a reasonable
15 consumer, as they relate to the quality of product received by consumers. A reasonable consumer 16 would attach importance to such representations and would be induced to act thereon in making his 17 or her purchase decision.

18 129. At all relevant times when such misrepresentations were made, Defendants knew or 19 should have known that the representations were misleading.

20 130. Defendants intended for Plaintiff and the Class to rely on the front labeling and 21 marketing of the Products', as evidenced by Defendants' intentional manufacturing, marketing,
22 labeling, and selling of Products with artificial flavoring ingredients.

23 131. Plaintiff and members of the Class reasonably and justifiably relied on Defendants'
24 intentional misrepresentations when purchasing the Products, and had they known the truth, they 25 would not have purchased the Products or would have purchased them at significantly lower prices.

26 132. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' intentional misrepresentations,
27 Plaintiff and members of the Class have suffered injury in fact.
